Plan to Control Dogs Outlined

A plan to bring under control an estimated 25,000 stray dogs in Contra Costa County and to lessen the chance that another person will fall victim to a rabid animal was tentatively outlined by Assistant County Administrator Robert J. Van Noord to a group of city managers last week.

It calls for creation of 13 "Areas" in the county, and location in most of them of "holding pens" where captured animals will be held for claimants for two or three days before delivery to the central pound in Martinez.

In the crowded Pittsburg-Antioch and Richmond-San Pablo areas, there would also be "service pounds."

ADMINISTRATION of the new system would require about 15 or 16 new men in the pound service, said Van Noord. The cost and details are being studied now, he added.

Walnut Creek City Manager Ira Gunn was among the six managers present at the meeting held in Martinez.

They voiced general approval, but expressed interest in the expense. Van Noord said he hopes that more rigid licensing and pound procedures will bring higher revenues to defray costs.

In the central county, one of the areas may cover Walnut Creek, which has no pound facilities despite the fact that it is incorporated, and Lafayette. Orinda will likely be in another area.

Presumably, there will be additional trucks to transport the unclaimed animals to central points.

VAN NOORD SAID that after more study, another meeting will be held where city managers can express their opinions. Later, the Board of Supervisors will be asked to pass an enabling act.

Since no taxing power is involved, establishment of the "areas" will not require an election.

However, there will be necessary contractural relations between the county and its cities.

For a full year, officials have been studying the problem — since a two year-old girl in Byron was bitten by a rabid skunk, and the entire county was under quarantine where dogs were required to be confined, or on a short leash.

THE LITTLE GIRL recovered, and later it was announced that vaccination would make the dog eligible for freedom. Thousands of dogs were vaccinated.

But it was clear that tens of thousands of dogs were still roaming the county, untouched by the quarantine or vaccination program.

Officials admitted that the situation was far from a solution.

Health Officer Dr. H. K. Blum told the Sun, "Only when we have a county wide control system, with adequate measures of licensing vaccination and picking up of stray dogs, can we be sure that rabies will not again threaten in the county."

SHERIFF HARRY Brown asked for additional men and trucks for the Martinez pound, and the Supervisors ordered that plans be begun towards adequate confinement and licensing programs.

Another rabid bite case was later reported, but public attention was drawn to other matters.

A County Pound official told the Sun today that since January 1, more than 3600 dogs and animals have been destroyed, and 608 have been held temporarily for observation.

There have been 950 animal bite cases in that time.

Quarry Decision Due on Nov. 7

Board Invites Written Comment on Restrictions

Decision on the long-pending, controversial application of A. J. McCosker for permission to operate a quarry in the Redwood Canyon area will be rendered at 10:30 a.m. November 7 by the County Board of Supervisors.

This was announced by the board Tuesday, following a 20-minute session at which revised restrictions for the quarry were offered by a committee of county representatives headed by Deputy District Attorney Matthew Walker.

Although the hearing on the matter had previously been closed, the board on Tuesday allowed a number of persons in the audience to speak on the issue. These included C. E. Steidtman, owner of property in the area, and Mrs. Ritchie Ward and Mrs. Byron Bole of Orinda.

The board ruled that the hearing would now be definitely closed, but asked interested persons to send comemnts on the restrictions, in writing, to the county clerk's office by October 30, so that the comments could be studied by Walker's committee and the supervisors prior to November 7.

Walker informed the board that operation of the quarry would require improvement of Canyon Road. He wrote:

"It is estimated that it would cost between $60,000 and $85,000 to improve the structure of this road to make it adequate to handle these trucks. This involves improving the structure on 1.55 miles of Canyon Road and strengthening the overhead structure to take the traffic which will be required.

"Whether this cost should be assumed as a general county expense or imposed upon the permittee is a policy decision upon which the committee purposely makes no recommendation."

Among the restrictions suggested are:

1. Quarrying to be started at top of knoll, approximate elevation 1455 feet, and proceed downward in lifts not to exceed 20 feet.
2. All blasting to be done between 7 a.m. and 1 p.m., Monday through Friday, except holidays.
3. All rock crushing, grading, stockpiling, loading and waste to be confined to southwesterly side of the ridge, where such operations will not be visible from the Moraga Highway side. All access to the quarry to be from southwesterly side of ridge.
4. Excavation operations to be limited to the hours of 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., Monday through Friday, except holidays.
5. Trucks hauling rock out of the quarry will not be limited in size but shall not exceed legal loading.
6. Trucks operating out of the quarry shall follow Pinehurst Road and Canyon Road to the intersection of Moraga Highway. Speed limit to be 25 miles per
7. Operator to be responsible for dust control, sanitary facilities, and silt and erosion control dams.

Hearing Set on Proposed New Local Bus Line

A new bus service between Lafayette and Orinda Village may be established following a November 7 hearing on the application of Sequoia Stages to operate such a line.

The public hearing, to be held at 10 a.m. at the Veterans Memorial Building in Lafayette, will be conducted by the California Public Utilities Commission, to whom the application was made on August 22.

Should the hearing prove to the commission that there is a need for such a service and that Sequoia Stages is qualified for the operation, a 9.8 mile route of Eastshore Lines will be initiated.

Eastshore is the name under which the bus corporation does business.

In the event that the commission issues a certificate of public convenience and necessity, the line will run between the Greyhound Bus Depot in Lafayette and the terminal at Orinda Village, according to commission representative Ralph Bell.

The route will carry passengers from the Lafayette depot to Moraga Road, Glenside Road, St. Mary's Road, Moraga Highway and then to the Orinda Village terminal.

Passengers will pay 20 cents to ride this route or the return route.

Commission Examiner Thomas E. Daly will preside over the November 7 hearing.

"GUIDERS" are a volunteer Orinda group which aids Guide Dogs for the Blind, the institution which furnishes guide dogs for blind persons. The Orinda group will act as host at tomorrow's graduation exercises at the Guide Dogs training center at San Rafael, in which blind persons and their dogs will participate, after having completed an intensive course of training. Among "Guiders" are, left to right, Mesdames Gale De Martini, Thomas L. Fitch, S. M. Haslett and Andrew Wolfe. With them is one of the De Martinis' dogs, Tedchea, a German shepherd similar to many of the dogs used as guide dogs.

Master Plan Action Set for Next Tuesday

Planning Staff Will Presents Its Resolution

County planning staff resolution for adoption of the Lafayette master plan will be presented to the County Planning Commission Tuesday night, Principal County Planner H. Russell Griffith said yesterday.

Griffith stated that the resolution, as requested by the commission at the September 25 public hearing, would declare that the designation of multiple-family classification for Moraga Road between School Street and St. Mary's Road does not refer to multiple-family zones new under ordinance.

Instead, mention will be made in the resolution of the perspective for garden-type apartments in that area and of the efforts toward a garden-type apartments zone ordinance, Griffith said.

THE MORAGA ROAD section, Happy Valley and the question of business frontage along Brook Street were the three main points of objection expressed in a resolution by the Lafayette Improvement Association last week.

The association statement described the planning commission's "disregard" of association wishes as "tantamount to sovereign contempt for the people of Lafayette and the general membership of this association."

It urged that the association recommendations of "medium density" classification for Moraga Road, designation of Happy Valley separately from established density ranges and forbidding of business frontage along Brook Street be included in the master plan "before final passage by the Board of Supervisors."

The association statement was sent to Chairman H. L. Cummings of the Board of Supervisors, and a copy was sent to the Planning Commission. It was read to the commission Tuesday night.

COMMENTING yesterday on the association statement, Griffith stressed that high-class garden-type apartments, with an effective ordinance, are contemplated for Moraga Road.

He said that precise zoning for Happy Valley — designated by the planning staff as "low density" (0 to 3 families per net acre), and with a considerable portion now zoned Suburban (one-acre) — "will have to be resolved in zoning hearings."

Regarding the question of business frontage on Brook Street, Griffith observed that "there is no essential disagreement" on that matter between the association and the planning staff.

Board to Tell Fate of Lagiss Property Nov. 2

Realtor Anthony G. Lagiss and residents protesting his application to rezone his property across from Acalanes High School will learn of the property's fate November 7.

Following a hearing Tuesday on the Planning Commission's recommmendation that Lagiss' request be granted, the Board of Supervisors announced that it will hand down its decision at 2 p.m. that day.

IN THE FINAL airing of the long-standing controversy, the board heard arguments for and against the proposal to change the 5-acre site from its present half-acre residential-agricultural status to a neighborhood-business area.

The property lies on the west side of Pleasant Hill Road, across from the school.

Since the application was submitted in September of 1950, residents in the Reliez Valley Road, Springhill Road, and Stanley Boulevard areas have been protesting the change.

IN SPITE OF the recent Planning Commission 5-2 decision to recommend approval, objectors were represented at the hearing to reiterate their arguments.

Attorney George Gordon, representing the Acalanes Community Improvement Association and the Springhill Road Improvement Association, presented several community leaders backing the protest.

These included Robert Wootten, president of the Springhill organization; David Stewart, representing the Acalanes group; Acalanes School District Superintendent Neil Parsons; Acalanes Principal Stanley Walgren; Fred Lincoln of the Acalanes Parents Club; and Don Fibush of Springhill Road.

OBJECTORS VOICED concern that the area would become heavily commercialized, destroying the residential atmosphere in the community. Parsons and Walgren repeated their fears that the rezoning might result in the area becoming a "hangout" for students.

These protests were answered by Attorney Bestor Robinson, representing Lagiss, who contended the only additional uses contemplated for the site, where Lagiss' real estate office is now located, are a Standard Oil service station and a grocery store.

Neither of these, he said, would be a "lure" to students.

ANOTHER AREA resident, Ed Rowland, stated that he "couldn't see the harm" in rezoning the property.

When the arguments were concluded, after about 45 minutes, the board closed the hearing, taking the issue under submission until November 7.

In the meantime, the supervisors said they wished to visit the site for a first-hand view.

Driver Dies at Wheel; Car Rolls to Stop

A car travelling along Pleasant Hill Road last Saturday struck a concrete dividing strip, crossed the oncoming lane of traffic and rolled to a stop against a tree.

No one emerged from the auto.

When Kenneth Pine, 1767 Ardith drive, driver of a car travelling in the oncoming lane, and his passenger, Gary Soderer, 1949 Alvina Drive, stopped to investigate, they found a man slumped on the floor of the uncontrolled vehicle.

Apparently having died of a heart attack while driving was Rudolph J. Foertsch, 54, a retired Navy man, of 1344 Reliez Valley Road.

Foertsch was pronounced dead on arrival at Kaiser Foundation Hospital, Walnut Creek.

Pine and Soderer said Foertsch's auto rolled 270 feet before stopping against the tree.

An autopsy by the Contra Costa County coroner's office was held.

Private rites were held at the Little Chapel of the Flowers.

Foertsch leaves a wife, Mary, and two children.

Special School Meet to Discuss Bond Election

Whether or not the Orinda School District should hold an $800,000 to $900,000 bond election in the next few months will be discussed at a special school board meeting Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the Pine Grove School.

The trustees have indicated that district expansion and future site needs point to the probable need of the vast bond issue over a four or five year period.

District building and expansion, aided by the bond issue, would also receive $800,000 to $900,000 in state aid.

The Odell Associates, district consultants at Stanford University, are expected to have a financial report ready for Monday's meeting.

Fixtures Damaged

Electrical fixtures at Buena Vista School were tampered with last weekend, resulting in $60 damage, it was reported.

Rohrer Dr. Job Goes to Immel

Contract for resurfacing of 2000 feet of Rohrer Drive, Lafayette, between St. Mary's Road and Read Drive, was awarded Tuesday by the Board of Supervisors to Lee J. Immel of San Pablo, on the firm's low bid of $17,713.

The bid was the lowest of three received by the supervisors. Reconstruction of the full width of Rohrer Drive is specified in the contract. Work is scheduled to start October 22 and is expected ot be completed by November 20.

In another action the supervisors scheduled November 7, 2:15 p.m., for public hearing on the Planning Commission's recommendation that Lots, 39, 27, 26, 25 and 24 of Blocks 2, 3 and 4 of the Brickerstaff Tract, on the westerly side of Chestnut and Walnut Streets, be rezoned from Single-Family Residential to Multiple-Family Residential District -A classification.

On recommendation of the County Public Works Department, the board approved two settlements for right-of-way acquisition on Moraga Road, Lafayette. They were for $1000 with the Lafayette Convenant Church, 691 square feet, and for $4000 with George W. Coupe, for 959 square feet.

The Public Works Department pointed out that the $4000 settlement also includes damages suffered by the property ower.

Union Officical Files Complaint On Trench Peril

A Lafayette union official signed a complaint this week against a construction firm working on Miramonte High School, charging unsafe construction practices.

The complaint, filed against the Pacific Company, Berkeley engineers and builders, and Job Superintendent Edward Thompson, was signed by Ron Wright of Lafayette.

It was part of an increasing drive to prevent ditch cave-ins which have killed three Contra Costa laborers in recent months.

Wright summoned sheriff's deputies to the site to inspect a 200-foot long ditch, varying between 60 and 83 inches deep, and without any protective shoring.

At work in the trench was laborer Elihu Grays of Oakland.

Bigger Library For Lafayette Will Be Topic

library for Lafayette will be the

How to obtain a more adequate library for Lafayette will be the topic at a meeting of the Lafayette Cooperative Library Association October 24, 8 p.m., at the Stanley School.

Discussion will be led by W. B. Scarborough, chairman. "Everyone interested in expanding the library facilities of Lafayette is urged to attend," Scarborough said yesterday.

He stated that memberships in the association are on sale at the Lafayette Library on Moraga Road, for $1 a year per individual, or $2 a year for the entire family.

Vets to be Honored By Tree Planting

The Lafayette American Legion Post 517 has been granted permission by the Board of Supervisors to plant a memorial to veterans of past wars, a tree.

The tree will be planted in the Lafayette Plaza, replacing one destroyed several years ago in a storm which memorialized the first resident killed in World War I.

Orinda Library Drive Still Has $61,000 to Go

It's hard work, but slowly and surely the Orinda Library Building Fund continues to mount.

Last week the house-to-house solicitations committee, headed by Mrs. Donald P. Krotz, finshed calling upon the homes that had been missed in the June drive.

Approximately $1400 in cash and $2300 in pledges have been added to prevous totals. The building fund now approximates the following:

Total cash from all sources on hand and in process of being recorded — $33,000.

Pledges, after allowances for shrinkage — $31,000.

Total — $64,000.

These figures, not yet audited, indicate that in order to attain the goal of $125,000, approximately $61,000 remains to be raised.

Walter Boysen, chairman of the Major Contributions Committee, is organizing his staff and committee for a concerted drive for major contributions in November.

Miner Road to Get Repair, Improvement

At last Tuesday's meeting of the Board of Supervisors, expenditure of an estimated $900 by the Public Works Department was approved for improvement of driveway culverts and a ditch on Miner Road in Orinda.

Some 400 feet of ditch, adjoining the Breuner property, is to be lined and driveway culverts will be repositioned.

New Fire House Officially OK'd

Orinda's new Fire Station No. 3, at the corner of Honey Hill Road and Via Las Cruces, was officially accepted as completed by the County Board of Supervisors Tuesday.

Acceptance followed recommendation by Wayne Littlejohn, architect who designed the building for the Orinda County Fire Protection District.

The $29,584 structure was built by the Romley Construction Company of Walnut Creek. Construction was started last March and was recently completed.

Housing two fire trucks — one with 1000-gallon pumping capacity and the other with 500-gallon capacity — the new station has two men on duty on 24-hour shifts.

The other two Orinda fire stations are No. 1, on Avenida De Orinda in Orinda Village, and No. 2, at Orchard Road and Moraga Highway.

Fire Board President Zach Montgomery and Fire Chief H. E. Wyatt point out that completion of the new fire house is part of the fire district's decentralization program.

Association's PIE Suit to Be Heard

The Orinda Association's injunction suit against Pacific Intermountain Express Company will be heard at 10 a.m. November 26 in Superior Court.

This was revealed Monday by County Clerk Walter T. Paasch, who added that the State Judicial Council has assigned Superior Judge Allen G. Norris of Alameda County to hear the suit.

Judge Norris is the magistrate who last June denied the association's request for a preliminary injunction against PIE.

This was filed by Richmond Attorney Nathan Engelberg, who will also represent the association at the November hearing.

The Orinda Association is now seeking a permanent injunction to prevent PIE's proposed construction of a $750,000 office building at the Pine Grove in Orinda.

Contra Costa's five Superior judges have disqualified themselves.

Orinda Sewerage Plan Will Be Adopted Soon

Second public hearing was held Tuesday night by the County Planning Commission on a general sewerage plan for San Pablo and Wildcat Drainage Basins, with Richmond and El Cerrito. Among places listed on the agenda as parts of the area contemplated were Orinda, Orinda Village and Glorietta.

After a 20-minute session on the subject, the commission closed the hearing and ordered that the plan be adopted after receipt of a written report from the office of Jack Port, head of the sewage, waste and water division of the County Department of Public Works.

First public hearing was held August 21.

PORT SAID yesterday that it will probably be about two months until he will be ready to submit his report. Principal County Planner H. Russell Griffith explained that the report from Port's division will accompany the map of the areas, for submission to the Board of Supervisors, which will conduct a hearing of its own.

Griffith explained yesterday that this general plan, if approved, would become part of the eventual general sewerage plan of the county. "It does not conflict with the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District, but offers a general perspective," he said.

Port said that the San Pablo-Wildcat general sewerage plan offers three alternatives "which it should be the duty of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District, the San Pablo Sanitary District and the East Bay Municipal Utility District to work out."

THE THREE alternate plans are:

A. Extension of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District area, to take in the lands along the San Pablo Reservoir to the spillway.

B. All sewage in the basin to be collected by gravity, traveling northwest along the reservoir and discharging into the San Pablo Sanitary District disposal system.

C. Sewage would be pumped into the Pinole Drainage Basin, at the city of Pinole.

Diablo Boulevard and Kaiser Foundation Hospital . . . especially near the entrance to Broadway Shopping Center. —Sun photo by Elizabeth vander Mark

Flood Zone Calls New Bond Issue

Voters in Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill, Alamo and surrounding areas will go to the polls again, probably on December 4, to decide on a $9,875,000 bond issue to finance waterways improvements in Flood Control Zone 3-B.

The County Board of Supervisors on Tuesday approved a resolution setting the form of the bond isue, and indicated that next Tuesday they will officially announce the date, informally agreed upon earlier.

Deputy District Attorney Charles Hemmings presented the resolution to the supervisors.

Descriptions were about the same as the earlier bond issue, which voters in April failed to support with the necessary two thirds majority.

ONLY A SMALL percentage of the 41,000 potential voters turned out, despite the record breaking rains of the previous winter. And only about 60 per cent were in favor.

The winter rains caused about $2 millions damage in the Walnut Creek watershed area, during December and January. Hardest hit were residents of Pleasant Hill.

The plans for improving the major channels in Zone 3-B have been prepared by the staff of the Contra Costa Flood Control District, which has this time retained a consultant, Stone and Youngberg of San Francisco.

Actually, a total of $12,885,000 will be spent if the bond issue passes. But the federal government will give $2,130,000 of this, and the state, $880,000. These gifts hinge on a successful bond isue.

DON DAVIS, a member of the Stone and Youngberg firm, said this week that bonds are preferable to any "pay-as-you-go" tax method of raising money, because it becomes available immediately, will not delay the work over many years, and qualifies the Zone 3-B for the federal and state contributions.

He estimated that the bond issue would cost the average homeowner in the zone only about $6 per year.

Supervisor Ray Taylor of the Third District commented Tuesday that pasage of the bonds "will help save the assessed value of the elevated lands as well as the taxpayers money, aside from helping and protecting the peoples living in the low areas."

He added that there should be more polling places set up, since some voters had to walk long distances to reach them in the last election.

Area Treated to Lightning Display, Light Showers, Cool Weather

A reminder that winter is icumen in and California weather is ever dramatic, the past week brought this area a spectacular display of lightning last Saturday night and enough rain to make the official list on two different days.

Orinda measured a downfall of .01 October 7 and .04 for the night of the 10th, bringing the total since July 1 to .37 inch of rain.

Walnut Creek had an .03 precipitation October 7, upping this season's total to .54 of an inch.

Chilly dampness had gardeners scurrying to bed down bulbs, plants and lawns before the real rains start.

Lafayette copped the week's high with a temperature reading of 89 for the 6th, and Orinda registered lowest with 43 degrees the 9th.

The week's official calendar went like this:

	Lafayette		Orinda		Walnut Creek Pleasant Hill
	High	Low	High	Low	High	Low
October 4	84	45	70	52	80	55
October 5	80	45	85	45	75	49

Report Will Speed Water District Vote

San Ramon Water Bonds Hinge on EBMUD Figures

A bond election to finance a network of lines for the new San Ramon County Water District will be held before the end of the year, if a request by District Board Chairman Kenneth Cameron for cost estimates is met speedily by East Bay Municipal Utility District.

Cameron addressed a letter to EBMUD this week outlining on a map the entire distribution system planned, and asking for revised figures on its cost, for EBMUD annexation plans, and a valuation of useable California Water Service facilities in the 16 square-mile area.

HE REMINDED Louis J. Bruener, chairman of the EBMUD board of directors that the law requires a 28 day notice before a bond election, and that quick action is necessary for setting a date this year, or even early next year.

Voters in San Ramon last June approved the formation of the new water district by 1626 yeas over 351 noes.

Main arguments of proponents were that the new district will bring about a substantial reduction in water rates now exacted by the California Water Service.

Once the new water lines are completed, and useable older lines are integrated into the system, the district will petition for annexation to EBMUD.

CAMERON'S LETTER said in part:

". . . It has been our expectation ever since this district was formed, that a bond proposition would be put before the voters prior to the end of this year.

"An element of urgency has been added to our problem with the increase of 30 per cent in CWS Company rates, authorized to be effective October 1, just past.

"This increase will add thousands of dollars monthly to the water bills of residents of this district.

". . . it is our request that a final and firm cost figure be provided soon thereafter, and if possible, within 90 days . . ."

Restaurant's Interior Gutted By Morning Fire

Fire destroyed the 15-year-old Voodoo Village restaurant on Main Street yesterday morning, but the excitement didn't deter customers of the adjoining bar.

The Voodoo Village bar opened as usual, and early-morning imbibers arrived in time to enjoy their favorite spirits and witness final cleanup operations by firemen of the Central District.

CHIEF BILL Nottingham said that a smouldering cigarette left at a table the night before was the probable cause of the fire. Estimate of the damage will wait on a report from the Fire Underwriters.

The alarm sounded at 9:25 a.m., and Main Street was blocked off as three trucks raced to the scene. It took more than an hour to bring the flames under control and clean-up.

Tables and chairs were destroyed and the walls and roof charred. A refrigerator in the front room was rendered unuseable but a stove and other implements in the rear kitchen were undamaged.

THE DOOR to the adjoining bar was open, it was believed, but only smoke damage was reported there.

Manager James D. Marks, an Oakland resident, said that he left the one-story building at about 4 a.m., and noticed nothing amiss at that time. The owner of the building is George Buck of Oakland.

Only slight cuts were sustained by Fire Lieuteant William Shisler and Captain Forrest Wilson.

Teacher-Parent Work Days Start Tomorrow, End Sun.

Tomorrow and Sunday will find Pleasant Hill High School teachers and members of the Parents Club serving the public in an unusual fashion as they stage the first Gas Station Work Party sponsored by the parent group.

Under the chairmanship of Les Soderer, parents and teachers will ply their mechanical talents at the Miilu and McPherson Union station at the corners of Oak Park Boulevard and Putnam Road from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. tomorrow and Sunday in order to raise funds to finance the active Parents Club rogram for the current school year.

Profits from all sales during the two-day campaign, donated by the station owners, will go toward defraying a portion of the year's expenses anticipated within the activities for the year.

Rather than dealing up their regular orders of grammar, grades, formulas, and exams, instructors, male and female alike, will be swishing chamois over freshly-washed autos, de-bugging windshields, loading gas tanks, and performing the many other duties involved in service station operation.

All lubrication and mechanical repairs are to be handled by the regular station crew.

Gingich, Spitz To Speak Before Teacher Group

William B. Gingrich and James N. Spitz, Pleasant Hill High School faculty members, will be members of a panel presenting a discussion of Professional Salaries for Teachers Tuesday in the Mt. Diablo High School auditorium at 7:30.

Sponsored by the Salary and Finance Committee of the Mt. Diablo Unified District Education Association, the conference is the first oenp meeting of its kind and has attracted the attention of officials of the California Teachers Association because it is to present a new approach to the construction of salaries for teachers.

Gingrich, Pleasant Hill High head counselor, as president of the local teachers group, will discuss the standards for salaries as outlined by the National Education Association.

Be Careful! He's Got A Hammer! Officers Warned

"Be careful, he has a hammer!" shouted Kaiser Hospital engineer Fred Brill Monday morning, as Police Sergeant Frank Thompson carefully edged his way up the stairs in the old Art and Garden Center, behind the hospital.

But Thompson wasn't taking any chances, and his gun was ready for action!

Above him was a door leading into the boiler room. An insistant hammering came from the door, and what appeared to be a wire was probing near the outside latch from a small hole in the door.

Below waited Chief John Jordan, another officer, Brill clutching a crow-bar, and engineer Fred Stoddard.

THE DISCOVERY had been made earlier that morning by Stoddard, when he arrived at work.

He had heard a report that a knob on one of the office doors had been broken.

Hammering attracted his attention, and he climbed stairs towards the boiler room and penthouse room atop the old residence, which has been converted for hospital offices and a kitchen.

"I thought it was Brill playing a trick on me. There was that pounding, and then I saw the wire poking out, and a flash of grey. I called out, and heard a rustling behind the door.

"WHEN I WENT back down, Brill was there, and we both went back to the stairs."

"It must be a lunatic," exclaimed Stoddard. Brill agreed. So, they decided to call the police.

Sergeant Thompson yelled up the stairway, and then started up, calling, "What are you doing up there, fellow?"

He stared at the door. "Why, thats only a woodpeckers beak!" There was a general sigh of relief, and then embarrassed laughter.

"WE'RE STILL laughing about it," Brill told the Sun.

"But while we didn't know what it was all about, it took a lot of nerve for Thompson to go up those stairs."

The bird, a grey female woodpecker who had been trapped in the room, was industriously trying to peck her way out, was taken into custody.

After a brief "cross" examination, she was released without filing of charges.

Proposed Bypass Feeder Opposed

Greyhound Rate Book Fight Stalled

Pleasant Hill commuters and officers of the Contra Costa Commuters Association requested lower fares and improved service from Greyhound Bus Lines before the Public Utilities Commission Monday in San Francisco.

In answer to the request of the commuter group Greyhound spokesmen said that any lowering of bus rates would be uneconomical and that its present service is adequate for most commuters in the central Contra Costa area.

Commissioners instructed both groups to submit further arguments in writing. No date for a decision was set by Wilson E. Cline, examiner on the matter.

AT PRESENT, Pleasant Hill residents must board a Martinez-Berkeley bus at various stops along Pleasant Hill Road. At this point they must pay a fee which is not covered by a commute book rate. That fee is 30 cents to and from the Acalanes Junction at Mt. Diablo Boulevard and Pleasant Hill Road.

At this point commute books are honored to Oakland and San Francisco points by the Greyhound Company. If the rider is to purchase Martinez - Berkeley commute books he hardly gets the commute benefit for such a trip. The distance traveled by Pleasant Hill commuters on this leg of the route averages five to 10 miles at most, the commuter group said.

"THE ONLY alternative for the Pleasant Hill commuter is to drive his car to the bus station on Contra Costa Highway where there are little, if any parking facilities, or to drive to the Acalanes Junction and park in that area. That is the only way in which the Pleasant Hill Road commuter may save the additional 60 cent fare.

"We seek to obtain a commute book to serve such a purpose. Greyhound at a hearing last year moved that the entire case be dismissed. At that time the PUC voted to take the situation under advisement and set today as the date for another hearing," said the group.

APPEARING on behalf of Pleasant Hill commuters at the meet were John McKirahan and Leroy Sowers.

The request of the Commuters Association asks that a rate and commute book be established for residents on the Martinez-Berkeley route who commute to Oakland and San Francisco points.

Annexation to WC To Be Aired by Gracelands Group

Whether or not the Gracelands area of Pleasant Hill will annex to the City of Walnut Creek will be aired at the quarterly meeting of the Gracelands Improvement Asosciation at Oak Park Elementary School, 8 p.m. Thursday.

Reports on various aspects of Walnut Creek city government have been prepared by members of the association. Individual home owners have been asked whether or not they wished annexation at the present time, according to Otto Strobel, president.

THE STUDY COMMITTEE and the executive board have made recommendations but they will not be made known until the membership of the organization makes known its wishes, said Strobel.

"The final decision lies in the hands of the membership it is on their action that this problem will be resolved," he said.

"We didn't feel that we should contact Walnut Creek officials first. We'd rather poll our own people and see if they are in favor of annexation to the City of Walnut Creek," explained Stobel.

"WE, OF COURSE, are most interested in what benefits Gracelands could derive through annexation to Walnut Creek. If Walnut Creek is undesirable to the general public we will remain a portion of Pleasant Hill," he continued.

"We know that if we were to annex to Walnut Creek we could contribute greatly to the city, what we are wondering is, just what would our benefits be in return.

"IN OUR AREA we have a considerable amount of land which is well planned and zoned.

"It is included in the Pleasant Hill Master Plan. There are residential areas, business, commercial, multiple dwelling and the like. In fact the area could be self sustaining," Strobel pointed out.

Stork Drops by Sun's PH Office

The Stork dropped by The Sun office and delivered baby girls to two Pleasant Hill Sun correspondents recently.

Carolyn Shreve and Pat Diesenroth, writers of Fair Oaks Fol De Rol, Part of the Garden, Sherman Acres Notes and Pleasant View Varieties, are the new mothers.

Candidates for Chamber Directorships to be Listed

The first step towards election of six new directors for the Walnut Creek Chamber of Commerce will be taken Thursday noon when the board of directors meet in the Elks Club.

A nominating committee will be chosen, with instructions to have the list of eligibles ready for the next meeting, November 1. The names will be sent to members in the mail, and must be returned by November 10.

Retiring directors are Howard Greenhalgh, Bruce Lee, Dean Spurgeon, Clint Newell and Dick Harkens. However, Spurgeon will continue to serve on the board as the immediate past president of the Chamber.

A SIXTH DIRECTOR will be elected for one year to fill out the term of Frank Tebbs, who has moved to Hayward.

Director George Connor last year resigned to take up residence in Lafayette, but returned, and was re-elected for a three year term.

Current directors whose terms won't expire for another year are William Anderson, Tony Cvietusa, Alan Douglass and E. E. Williams.

Still having two years to go are Connor, Don Nesbit, Harold Turner, Rett Turner and Frank Upchurch.

THE CHAMBER also announced this week that Robert Gould, a Locust Street property owner, will head the Parking Committee. The post has been vacant for several months, with the resignation of Rheul Reitz, due to the pressure of business.

Other members are William Anderson, Mel Brown, Bob Clark and Larry Turner.

Off street parking has been called essential to the prospertiy of Main Street merchants in earlier meetings of the group. The problem has been acquisition of land. A report is due in the near future.

AT A MEETING of the Retailers Division last week, it was decided to turn on Christmas lights on November 23, the day after Thanksgiving.

The Christmas decorated windows will be for public views that day also.

And it was recommended that beginning December 10, stores should remain open evenings for the last-minute shoppers.

COLLECTIONS are underway to pay for the $3300 cost of lights and decorations, and $1500 other expenses.

A highlight will be Santa Claus and his sleigh (it's really a jeep) who will circulate through the business and residential area. Jo Ann Hanna of the Promotions Committee will work out details.

Dollar Days, January 31, and February 1-2, will be designed for the shoppers benefit, said Roger Leidy, Retail Division chairman.

The Division voted to work closely with the Diablo Art Association in sponsoring a Pageant of Art. The event may be held in May. It attracted many people to Walnut Creek this year, members opined.

Office Ransacked

The offices of William F. Anderson, realtor, were ransacked on October 4, after burglars entered through a rear window. Nothing was taken. The location is 2051 Mt. Diablo Boulevard.

Charlton Drive To Air Problem With Planners

By BOB RAPIDA

Vehement opposition to a county proposed arterial feeder from Charlton Drive in Pleasant Hill to the new Pleasant Hill bypass road was voiced by area residents Wednesday night.

The residents of Cumberland Drive, and Charlton Drive will meet with county planners Thursday morning in Martinez to discuss the pros and cons of the proposed feeder.

PRESENT AT THE Wednesday meeting were representatives of the two streets, the Mt. Diablo Unified School District, Pleasant Hill Elementary School and The Sun.

The county asks that an 80 foot right of way be cleared for a two lane road which will intersect the new by-pass road. Other entrances are planned at Geary Road and Grayson Road.

The citizens group, headed by Ray Dunn and Doris Lanning, contends that the logical place to cut through an arterial feeder would be at Boyd Road. In both cases an extension of the existing roads would be needed.

DUNN POINTED out that the Charlton Drive opening would be a ten per cent grade wheeras the Boyd Road extension passes through a small vale and would be just a slight incline.

The main objection of the citizens group is that the street (Charlton Drive) is already heavily populated with school age children and that the lack of sidewalks in the area makes walking to and from school very dangerous.

School children in the area must walk to and from school due to a lack of school buses. Most children attend Pleasant Hill Elementary at Oak Park and Pleasant Hill Road.

THE CHARLTON Drive Improvement Club, many of whose members are also members of the Grayson Valley Improvement Club, went on record Tuesday night in a general membership meeting, as being opposed to the arterial feeder.

Dunn suggested to the group that the entire matter be brought before the Pleasant Hill Civic Council under the matter of new business at the Civic Council Monday night meeting at Fair Oaks School.

Charles Murdock, principal of the Pleasant Hill Elementary School, stated that he felt that such a cut through, at Charlton Drive, would present a serious problem to children walking to and from school.

"NOT ONLY WILL Charlton Drive be used for access from this particular area but commuters as far as south western Concord will use this area as a short cut to downtown points during the rush hours when they are many children on the streets.

Supervisors Set Date, Time for PH Rezoning Pleas

Dates and times were set for hearing of five major rezoning requests by the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors Tuesday in Martinez.

The requests were filed by Forrest Lea, L. T. Schreiber, Della Edmeades, Ott Gardner and Dan Peacock. Dates were set as follows. Lea, November 7 at 2:45 p.m.; Schreiber, November 7, 3:15 p.m.; Edmeades, November 7, 3:45 p.m.; Gardner, November 7, 4:15 p.m.; Peacock, October 23, 10:15 a.m.

LEA ASKS that his property be rezoned from residential suburban to retail business on land consisting of 1.6 acres bounded by Lacey Lane on the north, Highway 24 (Monument Boulevard) on the west and bounded on the south by the lands of Hunt. The Planning Commission has recommended denial of the petition.

Schreiber asks that his property consisting of 2½ acres be rezoned from agricultural to retail business. The property is located at the northeast portion of Treat Lane and Oak Grove Road. The Planning Commission in earlier hearings had asked the petition be denied.

Edmeades asks to rezone property consisting of .45 acres from transition residential to neighborhood business. The property is located fronting on the south side of Grayson Road bounded on the north by Pleasant Hill Road near the intersection of Grayson Road and Pleasant Hill Road. The Planning Commission has recommended denial.

GARDNER ASKS that property consisting of .95 acres be rezoned from multiple family residential (M-R-A) to neighborhood business. The property is located in an area near Pleasant Valley Drive, Hook Avenue, Oak Park and Sun Valley Avenue. The Planning Commission has gone on record as being against the proposed rezoning.

Value Days Coming Again! Shoppers Set for Benefits

Orinda shoppers are in for a boon.

Orinda Value Days are once again in sight, and local consumers know from past experience that the "value" in Value Days means sales and savings on a wide variety of items offered by merchants in the community.

The big days, planned last April by the Merchants Committee of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce, will take place Thursday, Friday and Saturday, November 1, 2 and 3.

Attractive window displays and colorful signs, provided by Orinda Chamber of Commerce, will herald the semi-annual festivities and mark where the terrific buys may be found.

Under the direction of Chairman John Ogden, Value Days will mean that the items on sale are the same quality items currently being handled by the merchants.

No "special" items will be brought into the local shos.

Conducted twice yearly, Value Days have indicated to shoppers that no matter what the need, "shopping at home" is the best policy.

ORINDA SUN SUBSCRIPTIONS, obtained by the Orinda Mothers Club during last year's subscription drive for The Sun, will benefit the grammar schools in Orinda. A check for $105—the net proceeds from new subscriptions obtained in the drive — was turned over to the Mothers Club last week by Eleanor Silverman (right), associate editor of The Sun. With her are, left to right, Mrs. Vernon Axelson, last year's president of the Mothers Club, receiving the check; Mrs. Odie Monahan, current recording secretary of the club, who was publicity chairman last year, and Mrs. Frank Newman, present publicity chairman. The club will decide how the money will be used for the schools.

Orinda Education Boosted By Expansion of Council

Education in Orinda received a boost recently with the expansion of the Educational Advisory Council to 10 members.

Initiated last March with a nucleus of five members, the council lists four functions and goals as guides:

1: To assist the Board in devising methods of communication to the general public.

2. To determine for the Board areas of educational interest in the district.

3. To act as liaison group between the Board and the public.

4. To study the educational program in the district and recommend to the Board ways and means of improving the program.

The original five members of the council were appointed by the board after having been recommended by Orinda school principals. When the council decided to expand, each member was asked to recommend a person interested in education in his community.

At present the council comprises:

Mrs. James W. Roberts, Del Rey; Jay M. Jacobus, Orinda; Mrs. John W. Rieser, Sleepy Hollow; Mrs. Thomas Mika, Glorietta; Dr. Roger Stark, Pine Grove; John Beckett, Sleepy Hollow; Joseph Longacre, Del Rey; Mrs. John Rinne, Pine Grove; Renald Kocher, Orinda, and Frederick G. Cook, Glorietta.

Moms Can Aid Kids by Joining Mothers Club

Prizes await Orinda's School children next week as the Mothers Club again begins its annual membership drive.

All mothers of children in the Orinda grammar schools are asked to join. For many years the membership has been 100 per cent, according to Mrs. Rudy Grah, membership chairman.

AS IN PAST years, all classes who reach the 100 per cent goal the first week will be given prizes. For the children in kindergarten through sixth grade these will be pencils stamped with their school name.

For the Pine Grove seventh and eighth-grade pupils the prizes will be records for the school dances.

Promoting the children's welfare has guided the Mothers Club ever since its beginning back in 1924 when a group of some 30 mothers formed a PTA chapter.

The school libraries were begun by the club. The mothers have also presented tape recorders and movie projectors to all the schools, as well as extra playground equipment and musical instruments.

IN ADDITION to the dues, $1 per family, the club receives funds from its bridge groups, from an annual project, and from payments for social items in The Sun.

The Sun also pays the club a percentage for new subscriptions entered through the Mothers Club.

Assisting Mrs. Grah in the various schools are Mesdames:

Anthony Yriberri and Jack Block, Glorietta; H. Truxton Jones and Leslie Niemi, Del Rey; G. B. S. Ricketts and M. D. Abbott, Orinda; Joseph De Costa and W. H. Pickton, Sleepy Hollow, and Robert Bowles and Herbert Blumer, Pine Grove.

These and many other questions will be answered next Tuesday evening at the Orinda Mothers Club Forum. Fathers will be guests of honor.

SCHEDULED FOR 8 p.m. in the Pine Grove School Auditorium, Tuesday's meeting, the first of the school year, will start off on an informal note with a surprise entertainment from the faculty.

The purpose of the Forum is to acquaint parents with what the Orinda schools have to offer their children, according to Mrs. James Irwin, program chairman.

"On weekdays our children spend more than their waking hour in or enroute to school, and we think there are many aspects of the program that parents want to know more about," she said.

ALL MEMBERS of the teaching staff who direct special services will be present at Tuesday's meeting to explain their specialties and answer questions.

The Forum will be conducted informally, with Frank Isola, Director of Physical Education, serving as moderator.

VA Thanked by Hospital Opponent For Relocation

An expression of gratitude to the Veterans Administration for locating its new hospital in Martinez was sent last week by an Orindan who was instrumental in keeping the structure out of his area.

Robert Thaman, who spearheaded the drive to dissuade the VA from building the multi-million dollar hospital in the originally selected site near Miramonte High School, addressed letters of thanks to Harvey V. Higley, administrator of Veterans Affairs, other VA officials, and Congressman John F. Baldwin.

Speaking as founder of the committee which opposed the hospital in Orinda and chairman of the protest meeting last May, Thaman thanked and commended the officials for "your sincerity in taking into consideration the attitudes of our people in Orinda."

"Public officials often tell citizens' groups that they will take into consideration the feelings of the citizens and reconsider the original position," he continued.

"However, in the majority of cases, it appears that such statements are merely 'window dressing.'

"In your case, your representative promised to reconsider the location of the hospital and actually did restudy the entire situation and did change your opinion in a manner that we believe will be beneficial to both the VA and the residents of Contra Costa County," the attorney stated.

In closing, Thaman thanked the VA for the manner in which it handled a problem which "started out to be a very serious one . . . but came to a happy ending through the work of your administration and Congressman Baldwin."

Orinda Parents To Continue to Meet Teachers

Orinda parents and teachers next Monday will begin their third week of classroom meetings.

Orinda Pupils Aid Fire Safety

National Fire Prevention Week ends tomorrow, but if Orinda residents heed the warnings and advice they've received during the week, the menace of uncontrolled blazes will be lessened.

This was the viewpoint of Fire Marshal William Koch, who added that participation and cooperation of local parents and children made the week a "big success."

YOUNGSTERS PLAYED an instrumental role in dramatizing the importance of proper fire precautions during the week, as pupils in Orinda joined nearly 3,000,000 Junior Fire Marshals throughout the country.

Their goal was to present the fire prevention and safety education program, sponsored by the Hartford Fire Insurance Company, to their parents and neighbors.

With "every child participating having reached two adults," Koch said that participation among the youngsters was virtually 100 per cent. This, he claimed, is what made the week a success.

ALL FIFTH GRADERS at Orinda, Sleey Hollow, Glorietta and Del Rey schools were given Junior Fire Marshal home report forms to take home and bring back by next Monday.

At the Pine Grove School for seventh and eighth graders, Koch and Lieut. Wes Jackson showed a film and gave a talk on fire prevention and home safety on three days during the week.

Local adults also contributed to the success of the week. A large wndow display at Warren Harold's real estate office in Orinda Village reminded passers-by of Fire Prevention Week and the need for precautions.

Kenneth L. Courtright, an agent of the Hartford Insurance Company, also was active in the drive toward fire safety.

But the conclusion of Fire Prevention Week doesn't mean an end of fire safety education, the fire marshal implied. He stated that "we have to keep at fire prevention every day. This is what we in Orinda do."

KOCH ADDED that an additional fire hazard during the winter months is the collection of dust and debris in air filters of home furnaces.

Suggesting that residents clean their filters once a month, he warns that clogged filters cause furnaces to overheat and create the danger of explosion.

Orinda to Hear Candidates at Oct. 22 Meet

Talks by candidates and discussion of some of the state propositions which will be on the November 6 ballot will highlight a Candidates' Night "town hall" meeting October 22, 8 p.m., at Orinda School auditorium.

Under the leadership of three of their mothers, Mrs. Maureen McConnell, Mrs. Joan Miller and Mrs. Lillian Mika, the girls, well filled from a menu ranging from "campfire stew" to French toast and hot chocolate, returned from Twin Canyon Girl Scout Camp much wiser and none the worse for raindrops.

Most of the increases were located in the central and western county areas, while decreases centered in the northern and eastern areas.

School children visit "Telezonia". Lots of grade schools are now showing pupils a color motion picture about a fabulous land of puppets. It's called "Adventure in Telezonia". The movie's part of a special kit. It was worked out by telephone people at the request of teachers and with their help. It's loaned to schools to show children how to use the phone correctly. This is important. For good telephone service depends a lot on how you and others use your phones. So the good telephone habits "Telezonia" is teaching children help make service better for everyone. The men and women of Pacific Telephone work to make your telephone more useful every day.

Frenchman, 81, Dies in Orinda

An 81-year-old native of France who came to this country in 1892 died here last Friday.

He was Jean Baptiste Bouchet, of 11 Overhill Road, Orinda.

A native of Basse Pyrenees, France, Mr. Bouchet was the founder of an Oakland dry cleaning business.

Owner of a laundry in San Francisco in the early part of the century, Mr. Bouchet moved to Spokane, Wash., to begin business over when the 1906 earthquake and fire destroyed his plant.

After coming back to the Bay Area during World War I, he retired from active business 15 years ago.

Mr. Bouchet was a member of Ligue Henry IV, L'Union Francaise and the Lafayette Club.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Rose Bouchet; a son, Emile J. Bouchet of Oakland; a daughter, Mrs. Alice B. Makinson of Orinda; a brother, Leon Bouchet of France, and one grandson.

Mass was celebrated in Santa Maria Church Tuesday. Entombment was in Holy Sepulchre Mausoleum.

2 Candidates Talk to Rotary

Both candidates for supervisor from the Second Supervisorial District, C. R. Wallace and Mel Nielsen, addressed the Orinda Rotary Club October 3.

Each candidate talked for 15 minutes at the club's weekly luncheon meeting at the Willow Inn, stating reasons why he felt he should be elected November 6. They were introduced by Clarence Betz, program chairman.

Prsident Ramsay Underwood opened the meeting.

Birthday Party Held In Natural Setting

The stars and Mt. Diablo's Oaks provided the setting for David Miller's recent ten-year-old birthday party.

David and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Miller, 10 Highland Court, took five of his friends for an overnight camp-out at Camp Junction, one of Diablo's most attractive sites.

The enthusiastic campers included Mike and Tim Thor, Richard Pilgrim, Randy Smith and Alicott Howard.

COMMANDER GUY B. CATTERTON (left), of 316 Camino Sobrante, Orinda, received the coveted Noel Davis Trophy recently on behalf of his "Weekend Warrior" squadron, anto-submarine squadron VS-872. He is shown with Commander Don R. Sanborn, executive officer, Oakland Naval Air Station, who is holding the trophy. Catterton received the plaque for the second consecutive year, making his unit the most outstanding anti-submarine squadron in the Naval Air Reserve. The Noel Davis Trophy is awarded annually by the Navy Department to the most efficient division of the United States Naval Air Reserve, by type.

New Teams to Play at Acalanes

In a move to provide an opportunity for recreation in an organized sports program, Acalanes High School boys not eligible for school teams (primarily because of size) now have on opportunity to form after-school basketball squads for intra-squad competition.

The squads, formed recently, are coached by instructor William Kaufman. Doctor's examinations are requisite to participation.

Couple Travels; Finds Home Best

From the night spots of Las Vegas to the shores of Encinada was the route taken recently by the Al McCanns on a two-week vacation trip.

While nine-year-old daughter Claudie kept their Sleepy Hollow home fires from burning, her parents staying for a week at The Sands, in Las Vegas, studied the talents of Sinatra, Bergen and Pearl Bailey.

After a short visit with friends in Los Angeles they crossed the border to the Bahia Resort Hotel on the Mexican beach.

But eight years with their home and pool at 38 Van Tassel Lane have made the McCanns very partial to local scenery.

Orindan's Jazz Sends 'Satchmo'

The famed gravel-voiced trumpeter, Louis Armstrong, shared the spotlight recently at the Harrahs Club at Lake Tahoe, where he was performing, with a fuzz-cheeked Orindan.

"Satchmo" wasn't expecting—and certainly didn't need—support from a guest performer, but when 13-year-old Mario Guarneri, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Guarneri, 58 Orchard Road, Orinda, finished his trumpet rendition of "Sugar Blues," the old maestro himself joined in the applause.

Mario, who played at several other spots during his stay at the lake, had been invited to do his solo bit by Armstrong's manager, Pierre Tallary.

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

The milkman cometh—cautiously

THE MILMAN DUCKED AND THE PARCEL POSTMAN pulled over last Thursday whenn lady drivers ran rampant over the rural roadways, racing between homes of distinction during the GOP Women's Autumn House and Garden Tour. And since the lady driver cartoons possibly originated w/us, we herewith publicly beg the pardon of the lady whose bumper we ALMOST bumped someplace along Camino Sobrante!

The No. 1 address on the tour ticket personified being "peaceful in the country," the pretty pristine white colonial home of Gen. and Mrs. J. R. Deane, trimly tucked between the trees off of Oak Arbor Rd. . . . Here, Sally Wiser hostessing at the clipped holly-hedged entrance where Marie Mannon, Ruth Barchfield occupied white director's chairs against a lush green lawn to direct guests indoors

Marge Tesman, in salmon pink ensemble that matched her cheeks, among the garden lovers admiring the espaliered camellias along the brick wall . . . Phyllis Hartanov, Blossom Schmidt in a group pausing in the shade garden . . . The extensive use of quilted chintz fabrics in muted tones throughout the restful house, hushed hues on floor and ceiling. An upstairs den wall covered w/framed photographs of the General's many friends, both military and civilian . . . Jeanette Wright agreeing THIS the way that friends pictures should be displayed and NOT in forgotten albums.

Vera Mai Long, who left her own garden in good hands to join the tour, w/Donna Skaggs in the all-over white living room which opened onto a flagstone balconied terrace . . . Catherine Anderson and Pat Bernard together down the brick walk.

HOUSE NO. 2, the much-lived-in menage of the junior G. W. Millers on Las Cascades, a house that grew in size and charm w/the family who came to live there some 15 years ago . . . Originally two bedrooms, now 6, the rustic home loaded w/charm, entered after a punch through the ticket by Ruth Gilwee greeting outside . . . Margaret Gathings at the door and from the entry a picturebook view of the Victorian dining room all dressed up for dinner, mellow mahogany, cranberry glass and crystal, floral wallpaper . . . Alex Hockenbeamer, Pat Johnson, Nancy Mulvaney among those sharing hostess duties here.

THE WARM AND COZY LIVING ROOM, w/a delft-blue beamed ceiling, old milkglass, blue ball-fringed valanced drapes at the country window, the children's portraits in oil over the powder-blue painted brick fireplace .. . Here Cappy Champion, Marietta Finery, Gladys Holm and Millie Freeman together, Barbara Wayne and friends . . . Evidence of family fun in every room,-especially the brick lanai running the length of the house, opening onto a vast brick patio where two ceramic red-capped roosters beckoned from the barbecue area, a circle of brilliant begonias . . . A swimming pool above, a place for basketball, a tennis court, the perfect kind of a house to grow UP in!

Taxi service saved fented denders

The contemporary home of the G. D. Simpsons and the Stephen Jensen's Garden were taken in one parking job, both being on Charles Hill Rd., just a house apart . . . Driving up w/a carfull, Gertrude Ogden, Molly Blue w/her mother visiting here from Chicago . . . Virginia Fish, Frieda Smith, KatieLou Tuttle, Alice Ward among the hostesses at the Simpsons where massive old pieces and delicate antiques blended beautifully w/some of the very modern . . . A marble-topped buffet from the past into a new setting admired by Sabina Friedman, Betty Cheney, Diana Parce.

THE JENSEN'S GARDEN graced by a tall willow tree near the pool, a Chinese goddess statue looking out on a dramatic Diablo view from the oriental-type landscaping, seahorse hooks on the wall of the poolhouse . . . Here Alice Haley, Fran Hafer.

A STOP IN THE JOSEPH LONG'S long driveway where a shuttle service was provided to the William Foster's majestic modern overlooking the rolling golf greens . . . Betty Taylor, new on Snowberry Lane, among the chauffeuses, ditto Georganne Beckett, Millie Tibbets. The Foster home, perfection in relativity . . . delicate bamboo against heavy Arizona flagstone . . . A foyer room eye-catching w/wallpaper of yarrow yellow w/an all over Chinese script in gold . . A reed umbrella, rope and wrought iron furniture in the garden . . . Kay Berard, Fran McBane co-hostessing here w/Jan Schevill greeting June Merriam who just recently moved into her new home also designed by Henry Hill, architect for the Foster's.

Taxi-service back to the Long's, parking near a pot-pourri planted area where flourished blooms of every kind for cut-flowers . . . Ticky Farrell, Helen Drews among the latecomers for refreshing iced punch served from a huge frosted bombernose-bowl at the green-roofed gazabo by the pool . . . elephant cookies mixed in w/tea dainties offered by Alex Ruxton, Vera Bremer . . . Merle Pyle, Reva Hart . . . Dorothy Fowler wearing a pink pachyderm in her lapel while Verla Krotz sported ivory elephant earrings. Frances Lax and Helen Kleeberger w/marketing on their minds, hurrying off across the stretch of lawn, the vernal setting showing off the New Orleans grillwork of the balcony and spiral staircase of this stately two-storied white house.

Besides engines, other things humming here

Jim Hendrickson, literally "back to the grind" after a late summer holiday at Hartsook Inn up the Redwood Highway, w/his family along. In the office, Etta Theile managing to keep her books straight in spite of a BIG DAY on her mind . . . trousseau shopping, fitting details of wedding plans for the Oct. 28 marriage of her daughter Sheila to Arlo Compher of Pleasant Hill.

The Wayne Caygills welcomed home Sat. nite by a contingent of their old friends convening for cocktails at the Woodburn Lambs during a party for Orinda Branch members of Children's Hospital and their guests, for which Henry Gentry's Dixieland band played . . . The electrical storm sent some guests scurrying home early to batten down the hatches . . . Others, like the Leighton DeMaeyers and the Thomas Montagues crossed the road to continue partying at the Peter Telfers.

Ardyce and Paul Handlery (she and Lonnie Currier are sisters!) take off on the 16th for a convention-time holiday for hotelmen in New Orleans, dinner at Antoine's on their must-do menu.

UNITED NATIONS FLAGS fluttered in a breeze that blew no ill wind and the rain didn't DARE to put a damper on the Annual Steak Dinner and Bazaar at Santa Maria Church last Sunday, where much activity was held outside . . . In the kitchen, the culinary crew rating kudos, the Harry Lavagettos, Joe Navones, Al Buerasteros, Al Bottos, George Wheeler w/the ice cream, Gina Lucas at the pies . . . Steak, Beans and salad at long red-checkered tableclothed tables, just right for these big families, the Frank Schnuggs, Charlotte and George Thurston, the John Gillivans who took up a table by en famille, as did the Lucases . . . Lois Thompson joining Mary Dorland, Jeanne Bottjer . . . The Bill Bondys sitting down w/the Don Alexanders, the Frank Gohrs. Seven o'clock suppers for the Henry Soubiellas coming from an early gathering at Thelma Harney's as were the Irving Moores, Helen Moore, Mrs. Harney's daughter.

WHILE THE CALIOPE MUSIC made like a music box, Peggy O'Brien watched her merrygoround moppets, Mrs. G. Bonnington w/a carousel-full of grandchildren . . . Former Orindan Roni Kentfield there w/her offspring and her sister-in-law Dorothy Reilly, Roni flying to NY on Mon. to join Luke there for a holiday . . . Hard at work in the booths, Ken Schwartz and Pat Finn . . . glimpsed Dick Regan, Ted Laher and Jack Hubner, taking tickets . . . Joe Golden, Del Courtney's father making change for the "big kids" . . . A Panda bear under one arm, a canned ham under the other for lucky Gerry Grimes . The Bob Boyles, he bundled up to shrug off a cold . . . At the Grocery Store, Al Scollard . . . the Eugent Garbarinos, Jay Angelos

John and Margaret Wiegand having coffee w/the George Smiths . . . Margaret w/the reminder that Eva Parker, under a parasol, will take a "Dreamer's Holiday" on Oct. 25 for the Women's fashion show.

Food Inspection Program is 'Worst' in Bay Area -- Blum

"Contra Costa County is the worst in the entire Bay Area when it comes to inspection of food handling establishments," Health Officer Henrik Blum told The Sun today.

Blum commented on a conference held last week by city managers at the request of Assistant County Administrator van Noord. County Sanitation Chief Tom McMorrow attended.

"We have no program, in effect," said Blum.

"WHEN A FOOD handling place is inspected and then revisited by our men, its owners can be sure that it will probably be a year before any Health Department man will again set food inside."

The city managers conference, held October 4 in Martinez and attended by Walnut Creek Manager Ira Gunn, concentrated on means of financing the employment of four or five new inspectors, a supervisor, and clerk.

Blum estimated that the cost would be about $30,000.

Four possibilities were discussed by the managers and were taken by van Noord back to the county administrative offices, where an ordinance is being prepared for submission to the supervisors.

THEY ARE AS follows:

1. The county might approve salaries of the new inspectors in the annual budget. This would be the simplest way, provided the additional expense is not prohibitive.

2. An annual fee might be charged each market, restaurant and food manufacturer, uniform for all, amounting to perhaps $20. Or it might be charged according to the size of the establishment, cubic footage, number of seats, etc. This was a matter of debate at the managers' meeting.

Blum commented that the little places often cost more to inspect than the big ones.

3. A fee could be charged only to establishments which actually serve food, omitting markets.

4. Annual contribution might be sought from the cities.

ONCE A SOLUTION is found, the county administrators office will submit it in the form of an ordinance to the Board of Supervisors.

If a strong program were launched it would mean "simple security" for the consumer, Blum indicated.

This means that proper dishwashing methods, adequate toilet and cleansing facilities, and sanitation classes for food handlers.

Without them, tuberculosis, flu, polio and many other diseases can be transmitted.

CITY MANAGER Gunn commented after the meeting that he has seen some kitchens in the area which ". . . I wouldn't like to see again." They were definitely under par."

He added, "The way out seems to be to allow the Health Department more power to do its job, and that means more people and stronger enforcement laws."

Present at the meeting were Managers Ken Smith of El Cerrito, Ken Williamson of Antioch, County Administrator Ed Desmond Teeter and others.

William Martin of Concord is supervisor of the Health Department inspection team.

IT'S A WONDERFUL record of achievement for the Multpile Listing Service, this trio agrees while looking over a pamphlet commemorating the tenth anniversary of the service next week. Contra Costa Real Estate Board members are, left to right, Dave Cotton, chairman of the Multiple Listing Committee, Bill Hayward, incoming Board secretary-treasurer, and Barney Gilbert, retiring Board president.

Howard Re-Elected; Tax Group Executives Picked

Bruce S. Howard of Orinda, recently re-elected president of the Contra Costa County Taxpayers Association, announced the election of an executive committee by the Association board of directors, today.

Executive committee members are Samuel Bradbard, Pleasant Hill attorney and chairman of the County Board of Education, J. B. Corrie of Richmond, past president of the tax group, Bruno Stolley of Martinez, Shell refinery superintendent, and Carl F. Grady of Richmond, Standard Oil Company tax controller.

OTHER COMMITTEE appointments will be made by Howard later in the month, after plans are completed for reorganization of committees.

Howard was re-elected to the top post about a week before the choice of executive committee members.

He has served as president, vice president and director of the Association for the past four years. He was originally nominated to the Board of Directors by the Orinda Association.

He is vice president of Howard Terminal in Oakland and was recently elected to the Board of Governors of the San Francisco Bay Area Council.

He has long been active in the Orinda Association, Orinda Boy Scouts and other civic organizations.

M. F. OHMAN of Pittsburg was re-elected as vice president of the Association at the same time.

Ohman is manager of Dow Chemical in Pittsburg, is the past president of the Antioch-Pittsburg-Nichols Industrial Association, and is a county park commissioner. He was recently awarded a doctorate of science degree from the South Dakota School of Mines and Technology in chemical engineering.

Alan H. Johnston of Crockett was re-elected treasurer.

Johnston is employed as controller of C & H Sugar Corp., and he served on the executive committee and the board of directors of the Association for over three years.

Johnston has also served as chairman of the finance committee.

Penny's of WC Is First Over Top in Diablo Area Crusade

First over the top in the Diablo Valley United Crusade Drive for business concerns was the J.C. Penny Company of Walnut Creek.

With more than 30 employees contributing more than 100 per cent with an average considerably higher than last year, Clint Newell, manager, was congratulated by Ted Barcelon, Drive Chairman, for he excellent work in getting the Crusade off to a good start.

Encouraging reports of a steady upswing in gifts to the Contra Costa County United Crusade Campaign have been received by drive officials as the first week of the Campaign ends.

Both Duncan Knudsen of Walnut Creek, Contra Costa Crusade Chairman, and Fran Watson Richmond banker and drive chairman, expressed satifaction at the progress of the annual solicitation for gifts to finance the operation of the scores of youth, welfare, social and family agencies in the county.

A goal of $424,955 has been set in this, the first county wide campaign under the United Bay Area Crusade.

Knudsen said: "We are enthused at the response the hundreds of volunteers in each section of the county have been given in their solicitation upon business, industry and the individual.

"We SINCERELY hope to be able to reach the quota assigned to Contra Costa County. We know that the success of this drive will have considerable influence on the future of the numerous agencies which share in the collection of these funds."

Watson, who expressed his satisfaction with the results of the "Business Blitz" staged in the business sections of the cities earlier this week, said that all reports indicate the goal for this division will be reached and exceeded.

"BUT FOR SOME call-backs made necessary by the absence of businessmen, we would have been near our goal right now," the banker said.

He voiced his appreciation to the scores and scores of volunteer workers who canvassed the business districts for two days earlier this week. "I am sure that when the complete returns are turned into headquarters, we will be over the top," he said.

"Although urgent requests for help in this area have more than doubled over last year, the Diablo Valley quota in the United Crusade has been raised only slighty over last year's to $49,850."

SO DECLARED a joint statement by J. J. Anderson, Crusade campaign coordinator for Central Contra Costa County, and Barcelon.

Both Crusade leaders urged a generous donation by each individual to help take care of the many needs, especially of youth organization, in this area.

"The difference between the requests and the quota is made up, so far as possible, by the donations of Diablo Valley residents at their place of business elsewhere in the Bay Region. But this $49,850 goal is the minimum in contribution needed right in this area to help take care of the special Crusade activities in Diablo Valley, in addition to all the other Crusade services, they explained.

"Take for instance the good work done by the Senior Girl Scouts for the older girls in Diablo Valley," cited Barcelon. "It costs money to keep up these Scout activities but the results more than justify the expense, as Susan Kley of Lafayette and Carol Duling of Pleasant Hill will tell you. They have just returned from a trip they won to the National Senior Scouts at Highland Recreation Area near Pontiac, Michigan.

Dental Health Poster Contest Getting Underway

The fifth annual county-wide dental health poster contest is now under way with February 15, set as the closing date for all entries, announced Dr. John S. Shaw, president of the Contra Costa Dental Society, today.

Local Citizens To Wish Ike Happy Birthday

President Eisenhower will have a happy birthday Sunday if the wishes and efforts of local residents on his behalf are any indication.

As "Ike Day" is celebrated throughout the nation tomorrow on the eve of the President's birthday, citizens of Lafayette, Orinda, Walnut Creek and Pleasant Hill will be passing and signing scrolls with a "Happy Birthday, Ike" note.

These scrolls will be forwarded directly to the President.

According to Mrs. Thomas Barrows, vice chairman of the Eisenhower-Nixon Committee for Contra Costa County, "These scrolls, signed by millions of our citizens, will be a warm tribute to President Eisenhower."

In charge of the scrolls in the local communities will be:

Mrs. C. F. Dailey, Lafayette; Mrs. Melvin Jacobus, Orinda; Mrs. Hollis McLaughlin, Walnut Creek; and Mrs. M. A. Hilleary and Miss Merre Hilleary, Pleasant Hill.

Mrs. Jacobus in Orinda will receive help from the Young Republicans of Mills College, who will be passing the scrolls in Rheem Center from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The Mills committee is headed by Miss Mary Lou Devin of Moraga Road, Moraga, and includes Miss Betty Ann Mathewson of Pleasant Hill.

Ike-Dick bumper strips and posters will also be distributed.

Acalanes Parents OK Evacuation Of Pupils, East

In a preliminary report to Acalanes District trustees last Monday, District Superintendent Neil M. Parsons disclosed that 44 per cent of the high school parents have responded to the District's questionnaire on whether or not their child should be evacuated eastward in the event of a disaster.

Eighty per cent of replies are for the eastward evacuation of pupils and against sending students home on foot.

Trustees postponed a decision on the matter, pending further study and the return of more questionnaires.

Prior to the meeting trustees toured district schools for an on-the-spot check of both school facilities and the educational program. Board members expressed "satisfaction" with the facilities toured and the educational activities observed.

In a discussion of the district's five year building program, board members expressed alarm over the mounting costs of construction and their concern as to how long the Acalanes Dictrict will be able to stave off the necessity of appealing for state building assistance.

SCHOOL OFFICIALS estimate that it takes $2,000 per pupil to build high school facilities.

In conjunction with building program decisions, trustees moved to sell $700,000 in bonds to finance construction to complete Acalanes and Las Lomas and build additions at Miramonte, work to be done this year in accordance with the board's "build as you grow" policy.

The $700,000 would be part of the $3,250,000 bond approved last year by district voters.

Trustees approved plans authorizing construction of eight classrooms, including five science labs, at Miramonte.

Bids are to be called as soon as possible; construction is scheduled for completion by next September.

TRUSTEES ACCEPTED the fence around the Las Lomas athletic field; called for re-bids on surfacing the Acalanes track after rejecting earlier bids as "too high," and sanctioned the employment of an additional gardener for the district's school plants.

On behalf of the student body of Acalanes High School, Parsons presented board member William Freeman with an Acalanes "A" athletic blanket in student recognition "of the six years of service as a district trustee."

According to student body President Kent Grigg, the students "traditionally presents a token of recognition to trustee of long service who's time and effort have been devoted to the welfare of the students."

Turnover Assures Realtors

Real Estate is the biggest business in America, with over 900 billions of dollars worth of real estate waiting for salesmen. This is the theme of the current bulletin of the National Institute of Real Estate Brokers, announced William F. Anderson, Brokers Institute representative in this area. The publication is entitled, "The Successful Salesman."

According to Clinton B. Snyder of Hoboken, New Jerse, sponsor of this bulletin, over 60 per cent of all families own their own homes. Ownership changes every six or seven years, on the average, so there is a constant turnover or sale.

The bulletin goes on to point out that not too long ago the real estate profession was a welcome haven for failures in other lines of endeavor, but today the complexion of the business has changed, requiring individual qualities and abilities on the part of salesmen.

Courses are now being given by colleges, universities, and real estate boards, throughout the country. The qualities needed in the various types of selling, as well as ideas which are tributary to success are highlighted in this bulletin.

Ike Bandwagon Tours County

With campaign music blaring and pretty girls parading, the Eisenhower "Bandwagon" made a wide swing through Contra Costa County yesterday, leading a caravan of Republican candidates and other Ike enthusiasts.

The caravan, launched in Lafayette around 10 a.m., was headed by a red, white and blue open "Ike" jeep, which was followed by the huge bandwagon, a decorated van containing a movie screen, bicycles, posters and local ladies.

Having started its tour in New York City, the bandwagon is one of six such vehicles that have toured communities in 46 states.

In its swing through the county, the caravan made music and drew attention in Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Concord, Pleasant Hill, Martinez, Antioch, and Pittsburg.

In each of the communities, the bandwagon stopped intermittently to unload its cargo of pulchritude. The feminine Ike boosters, wearing pink and white "Ike" dresses, then paraded alongside the van as it moved slowly up the main streets.

Included on the bandwagon were Miss Carolyn Peterson of Lafayette and Mesdames David Robbins, Thomas N. Crellin, Ruppert Lewis, Colin Doiron, J. W. Zimmerman and Carl Knecht, all of Walnut Creek.

Trailing behind the van were Congresman John Baldwin, State Assemblyman Donald D. Doyle and State Senate candidate Jack Pedder.

2-County Transit Is Opposed at Commuters Meet

"Contra Costans seem to agree that benefits of a two-county transit system are not commensurate with the added tax burden."

That was the view on the controversial proposed system stated by Aubrey Macomber of the Contra Costa Development Association at a Tuesday night meeting of the Contra Costa Commuters Association at Acalanes High School.

This was the association's annual election meeting.

Macombre's opinion came at the end of a discussion of the transit system by newspaper writer Bill Stokes, guest speaker for the evenng.

AFTER EXPLAINING to the assemblage the system's proposals and other data and drawing analogies from comparable systems in other areas throughout the country, Stokes threw the meeting open to a question and answer period.

It was then that Macombre gave his opinion. The Development Association representative, however, added that he was strongly in favor of the proposed nine-county rapid transit system.

This prompted the guest speaker to clarify the term, "rapid transit," and to point out differences between the two systems.

"RAPID TRANSIT," Stokes explained, "is a grade system, completely separated from existing highways and road beds and free from interference with other road traffic."

He emphasized that the two-county system would not be rapid transit, but more or less an improved bus line.

In other business, the Commuters Association elected a new slate of directors for a two-year term.

INCLUDED AMONG the electees are Douglas Buffington, Douglas Kelly, Red Weight, Lou Presson, Max Dunn, Henry Norris, Hugh Forest and William Chilcote. In addition, Vic Kingston and Pete Zischke were elected to replace resigning directors Bailey and Graziano.

Leroy Sowers, another director, reviewed for the association the accomplishments during the past year of the Service Committee, which he heads.

A report was also given that the association is protesting Greyhound's discontinuation of acceptance of commute books on the Pleasant Hill route.

The new Hayward store will be the company's second largest unit, exceeded in size only by the Oakland store.

Tebbs will supervise, as manager, some 350 employees with an annual payroll in excess of $1 million.

No successor has been announced as manager of the Walnut Creek store.

Beauty, Athlete Asking $200,000 For Car Wreck

Suits totaling $200,000 have been instituted against Mrs. Edna Witte, 55, of 3275 Vals Lane, Lafayette, by a beauty queen and a former University of California basketball star.

Miss Merilyn Phillips, 26,, former "Miss Contra Costa" beauty queen and Conover model, was injured when the car in which she was a passenger, driven by former athlete, now a San Francisco attorney, George G. Walker, was struck by Mrs. Witte's auto on September 9, 1955.

Miss Phillips, who originally asked for $50,000 damages, was granted a request to increase the suit to $150,000 last week by Superior Judge Wakefield Taylor.

Walker also sued for $50,000.

A Concord resident, Miss Phillips was the county's "Maid of Magic" candidate at the State Fair in 1953.

Insurance Men Hear Glass; Give $50 to Students

David Glass of the Firemans Fund Insurance Company told the Contra Costa County Insurance Agents that the large multiple location credits for fire insurance appear not to be justifiable and to look for a discontinuance of the plan in the near future.

Glass was introduced by program chairman, Bill Hockins, Danville insurance agent, at the regular monthly meeting of the Contra Costa County Association of Insurance Agents held at the El Monte Restaurant Monday evening.

Bela Clark, Contra Costa County Sheriff's Department, explained about the Economy Run for high school automobile drivers. In a special Board of Directors meeting held immediately following the regular meeting it was voted that the Association of Insurance Agents contribute $50 for deferring expenses of the Economy Run in the interest of encouraging safe driving of young drivers.

Local agents who attended the dinner meeting in Concord were I. Magill and Gene Williams, Walnut Creek; Mr. and Mrs. Neill Cornwall and Jack Pedder of Lafayette; and Ted Winslow of Pleasant Hill.

Protests Cause Delay in Sewer Construction Bids

A decision on calling for bids on construction of sewers in Local Improvement District No. 33 has been delayed by the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District until October 18.

Protests of some home owners who wished to be excluded from the district were overruled at the board's public hearing on the project last week.

Objectors were represented by Attorney C. Terence Ring.

The delay in continuing with a call for actual construction work bids was granted to allow additional time for study of possible rerouting of some of the lines.

Some 130 property owners are involved in the area, which is within the area bound by Forrest Avenue, Hillgrade Avenue and the Walnut Creek-Danville Highway.

Dirty Tunnel Gets Revamping

Cleanliness is the thing that's slowing down traffic through the Broadway Tunnel these days.

Crews started work this week on scouring and beautifying the link between Contra Costa and Alameda counties.

As the workers scrub their way through one bore at a time during the slack traffic hours Monday through Friday, the second bore is being converted to handle two way traffic.

This leaves just one lane of traffic open each way while the work is in progress.

As the hours of heavy commuter traffic approach, however, state authorities in charge of the project, shuddering at the thought of the impending traffic tie-ups, call off the crews and reopen the second bore.

Work will progress from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

The work will continue for about 10 days, or until the tunnel is shining like some of the cars that pass through it.

The Acalanes Adult Center will now present a piano course originated and written by Chuck Dutton.

Dutton, a prominent Berkeley musician and teacher, has devised an easy system for learning, he said. His method is chord system and eliminates about 90 per cent of the work and study that a person ordinarily must do in learning to play the piano.

Mentally Ill are County's Foremost Health Problem

The "No. 1 Health Problem" in Contra Costa County is mental illness, according to an annual report issued last week by the County Health Department.

The report, which dealt with all phases of the Health Department program in 20 chapters, set aside a full chapter on mental health. Preparation was under the direction of Health Officer H. L. Blum, M.D.

In 1955, suicides in the county were the eighth leading cause of death, the report stated.

THESE ARE ONLY the most extreme cases, it added. Mental patients fill many hospital beds, and they are "of course, a relatively small proportion of the mentaly ill."

It was estimated that at some time in their lives, 123,000 county residents will need mental health guilance, but only about 67,000 will seek that help.

And about 37,000 persons now in the county will spend some time in a mental institution.

This indicates that one in four men and women in the county will sometime be mentally ill, and in need of professional aid, where the county population is estimated at a little more than half a million.

THE REPORT stated, "In 1955 our public health nurses made visits to more than 120 clients for this purpose. Under the overall supervision of a psychiatrist . . . we assist selected families which have serious emotional problems.

"We receive these clients from . . . referrals for home follow-up from the County Hospital psychiatric ward, and also by our routine contacts for some other health reasons."

"Nationally more hospital beds, over 700,000, are occupied by the mentally ill than or all other reasons combined.

"One out of every 10 persons spends some part of his life in a mental hospital; one out of every five seeks professional guidance, while studies show than one in every three persons should."

Another chapter pertained to health in schools.

THE PRESENT immunization level in the county is below that considered "adequate" by the Health Department.

"We estimate that community protection against epidemics of diptheria and small pox may be considered adequate if 75 per cent of school children have been immunized.

"In 1955, reports of immunization levels from schools varied from 28 to 84 per cent."

The level in the county for elementary schools last year was 67 per cent diptheria and tetanus, and 60 per cent, smallpox, and for secondary schools, 51 per cent and 48 per cent.

Church Concert Series to Feature Prominent Artists

A series of concerts featuring prominent Bay Area artists will be offered locally this year, be gininng on Sunday, October 21, at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Orinda.

This was announced by Mrs. A. C. Hollister, president of the St. Stephen's Choir Association, which is sponsoring the series.

"It is our hope that the general public will take advantage of this opportunity to hear these fine performers and will not feel that our invitation is extended only to members of our church," Mrs. Hollister said.

Appearing in the series will be the Duo-Singers, sopranos Nancy Corwin and Claudine Allen; the Berkeley Chamber Singers, a unique choral group directed by Donald Aird; Edgar Jones, baritone, and Carol Brooke, soprano; Maurice John Forshaw, organist; and the choir of the Holy Trinity Episcopal Church of Menlo Park, directed by Robert Keine.

The concerts will be presented on the third Sunday of each month, with the exception of April, during the choral evensong services at the church.

The services will start at 7:30 p.m. and the concerts at 8 p.m.

The St. Stephen's Choir, which is directed by Aird, will open the series, as hosts, with a concert of favorite anthems on October 21.

Choir members Jane Deubner, soprano, and Stanley Stidham, tenor, will appear with the group as soloists.

The choir will also be heard in the final concert of the series in May, when it will sing the Brahms Requiem, for which it will be augmented by soloists and orchestra.

Acalanes Parents to See How Students Spend Day

Acalanes High School parents will become students again next Monday night as they duplicate their sons' or daughters' day at school.

THEY WILL go from class to class just as the regular students do, following the program of their child. The only periods skipped will be "brunch" and lunch.

However, this will be compensated for later in the evening.

Parents are being sent cards so that "Junior" may fill in his schedule for Mom and Dad to follow and Mrs. George Eberhart urges everyone to be sure and bring these.

AS USUAL, a short business meeting will be held in the boys' gym — then, back to school.

George Low, membership chairman, will have his committee on hand to accept dues from those who have not joined the Parents' Club as yet.

Committee members are: Mrs. George Low, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cullen, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bell.

FOLLOWING a strenuous 'day' of rushing up one hall and down the other, refreshments will be more than welcome, and will be served in the cafeteria.

Hostess chairman for the evening will be Mrs. Vernon Axelson. She will be assisted by Mesdames:

Elmer Fries, Hans Wendel, Arnold Baschen, Lloyd Hunt, George Fink, Jack Moylan, Marvin Bonds, Murray Sharpe, Walter Haefle, Ronald Larsen, William Thurlow, Joseph DeMaria and Ernest Hunter.

Fiesta Culminates Mexico Studies

Sixth graders at the Vallecito School travelled south of the border — in spirit, at least — Wednesday when they culminated their studies of Mexico with a Mexican Fiesta brunch.

With many familiar Mexican foods being served, the brunch led up to school exhibits of Mexican handicraft and art, plus a mural depicting the history of Mexico from the Aztec empire to the present day.

The exhibit will end the sixth grade study of the history, geography, industry and society of the southern neighbors.

Under the direction of faculty advisors Mrs. Graylis Vossler and Mrs. May Summers, committees of the Vallecito Student Council are encouraging cleanliness, safety and good citizenship.

Comprising pupils from the 4th, 5th and 6th grades, the council is headed by:

Bart Rocca, president; John Dade, vice-president; Bob Peterson, secretary; Jack Funk, treasurer; and Joanne Brattain, Safety Patrol captain.

The council's Ways and Means committee, headed by Mary Jane Heinbockel, is considering fund raising projects to be presented to the council.

Thaler Installed As President Of Toastmasters

Bill Thaler of Lafayette has been installed as president of the Larinda Toastmasters Club.

At a recently ceremony, George Sanko, past president, and District Governor Conrad Wingefeld, installed Sanko to his office, along with the following new officers:

George McCormack, educational vice-president; Gordon Forrest, administrative vice - president; Vince Gates, secretary; Mel Melendres, treasurer, and Dick Elliot, sergeant-at-arms.

During the regular meeting, Past President Sanko had the Toastmasters' wives participate in table topics, the series of one-minute extemporaneous speeches.

Mrs. Dave Baird and Mrs. George McCormack acted as main speaker evaluators.

The Speech Cup was awarded to Mel Shine, whose subject was, "Pay as They Grow," and argument that taxes should be proportional to the age of children as well as to the number per family.

Vince Gates topped the table topics speakers for the evening.

The semi-anual award to the member who has won the Table Topics Cup the most times during the past eight months was presented to George McCormack by President Thaler.

A past president's pin was given to Sanko, who paid tribute to the other charter officers of the young organization.

Thaler announced that a few memberships are available for men interested in learning to speak before an audience and will tolerate evaluation or criticism.

Interested men are requested to contact Thaler, AT 3-2373, or Gordon Forrest, AT 3-2165. Weekly meetings are held on Mondays at 6:30 p.m. at Casa Orinda.

Acalanes Boosts 'School Spirit'

Set "to give school spirit a shot in the arm" are members of the Acalanes booster club, the Rally Committee.

In charge of stimulating school spirit at social and athletic events this year are Rally Committee members John Cadwell, Jane Pendleton, Sally Adair, Carrol Haines, Thom Phair, Bill Shertleff, Glen Brackett, Ernie Fox, Pam Phillips, Dave Bojarsky.

Ed Maloney, Jin Dinkel, Dick Newman, Joan Evans, Jill Pinkus, Buck Hall, Sheila Fox, Kent Grigg, Norma Waddell, Len Saputo, Julia Dees and Barbara Hull.

Rally committee members recently concluded a successful student body card sales campaign and are currently developing a program of "spirited pre-game rallies" for the Acalanes football schedule, according to committee president John Cadwell.

Local Homes Looted of $575

Burglars have looted some $575 in furnishings, appliances, clothing and cash, a pair of local residents complained Tuesday.

One of the victims, Mrs. Le Martin Spittler of 25 Camino Don Miguel, Orinda, told sheriff's deputies that thieves entered her home and made off with about $450 of goods and cash Tuesday.

She said she had left for the day and had forgotten to lock the front door.

The second home entered, that of Mrs. Betty Bonner, 1145 Estates Drive, was looted of a clock radio, a man's topcoat and $30 worth of bedding, totalling some $125 during the summer.

The report was made belatedly as Mrs. Bonner told investigators that the house was largely empty from June 14 to September 1, with her husband and son home only on weekends. The family had been vacationing during that period.

Around Acalanes

By JERRY MORIARTY

Tonight, as the Acalanes football team hoofs it onto their home field, they have a dual purpose. This is not only a chance to win the game, but also the Acalanes-Diablo Pereptual Trophy.

It would mean that we would have the trophy for two consecutive years.

The trophy has been "passed back and forth" to the winner of our annual football game with Diablo for seven years.

The Devils retained the large, gold football for five years in a row, omitting the first year of the trophy's existence, when the two teams came up with a tie score of 6 to 6.

In this case Acalanes had possession for one half of the school year.

Finally, after many hard fought defeats, including the memorable game of 1953, which was played on a soggy field in the middle of an outlandish downpour, the Dons appeared triumphant last year, with the game ending 13 to 7.

As a result, the shiny trophy has spent the year reclining in the center of our trophy case.

The Acalanes student body appears extremely enthusiastic, and ready to back the team up so they may achieve their dual purpose.

Students from both Acalanes and Miramonte belong to the Curtain Callers, which is sponsored by the Orinda Art Center.

Tonight and tomorrow they will make their first presentation: "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" at the Orinda Union School.

The play relates a story of two young girls traveling through Europe during the Roaring Twenties, and Joan Haefele, cast member, exuberantly expressed her opinion of the production—"It's really great!"

Other excited cast members include Judy Henderson, Jim Hill, and Tim Peck.

I would like to make a retraction as to something printed in this column last week. Prudy Myers is not Social Secretary of the Sophomore class, but Secretary.

Kathy Thompson deserves credit as to her rightful title, which is Social Secretary. There is no excuse for this other than the fact that I was confused; along with a good many other people. Now, if I haven't confused you all the further I hope it is straight as to who is who and what is what.

By the way, in regards to the Sophomore class, their "Flying Saucers" dance was a great success, with interspace matter "floating" through the room.

They even had an "authentic" flying saucer sitting on a misty plateau in the center of the room. In spite of the mix up as to who was what, the dance still came off fabulously.

Schools to Allow Time Off for Religion School

Authorization for Lafayette school children to be released during school hours for religious training came Monday night at a meeting of the School District Board of Trustees.

Upon parental request and church authorization, children will be allowed to miss the last school period of the day on Fridays in order to attend classes on religion at a church.

In other action, the board granted a request for bus service for Kindergarten children who live in the Sunnybrook area. Authorization for the service, which up to this time was not included in the district's bus service, was granted subject to review when the connecting road between Sunnybrook Drive and Upper Happy Valley Road is completed.

Lloyd Rudholm of Walnut Creek was awarded a contract for landscaping of Phase 1 at Springhill School and the administration area at the Vallecito School. All other bids were rejected.

Mrs. Sara Lee Adams, clerk of the board, will attend the California School Boards Association Annual Conference in San Francisco December 6, 7 and 8.

Book Review Tickets Available

The Woman's Auxiliary of St. Stephen's Church announces through Mrs. Jack Rands, Program Chairman of the Auxiliary, that tickets are still available for the remaining two out of three book reviews to be given by Mrs. Lloyd Truman.

Tickets are obtainable from Mrs. Rob Bigler, CL 4-2504, or Mrs. Jack Rands, CL 4-2615. The dates for the reviews are October 18 and November 15.

The reviews will be held in the Undercroft of St. Stephen's Church at 12 Via Las Cruces in Orinda at 1 p.m. Refreshments will be served. Tickets will also be available at the door.

Lunch Energy Played Off at Noon Games

There is no lack of activity for pupils at the Burton School during their noon lunch hour.

After their food is eaten and digested, the youngsters have a chance to play off some of the new energy at the organized play periods conducted at the school.

Each afternoon, directed by teachers Robert Trask and Robert O'Connor, games and tournaments in basketball, football, softball, dodgeball, kickball and many other sports are conducted.

Opportunities for leadership and management are provided by the school's student store. The store, managed by the student council, employs pupils as salesmen and operators.

These young businessmen sell various school goods and snacks and must each day tabulate and account for the money taken in and write checks. Revolving about the student store is also a council drive to keep the school clean.

AFS Elects New Officers

By ARNE GROENNINGS

Last Friday the American Field Service had a meeting and election of new officers. Alan Hewitt was elected president; secretary, Ellie Hilmer; treasurer, Jeanne Hunnicutt; publicity, Arne Groennings.

We have some fine students with us from abroad this year. They will be officially introduced at the next student assembly.

I think that anybody who does not take the opportunity to get acquainted with these kids will be the poorer for it. They have traveled in many countries and are full of interesting information and experiences.

Kids all over the world are really very much alike. If more of us realize that our differences do not hinder our relations but add spice to our friendships, we would learn to get along much better with our fellow man.

Since we all can not go abroad, let us open our homes to these kids from there and support AFS.

In this way we will make our lives much more interesting, and our foreign students will go back home with wonderful memories of Acalanes.

'Richards Day' Will Have Luncheon Rally

A luncheon rally will highlight "Richard Richards Day" in Contra Costa County next Thursday, it is announced by John Knox, county chairman of the Richards campaign gor the U. S. Senate.

The $3.50-a-plate Democratic affair will begin at noon in Fiatarone's Steak House, San Pablo and Nevin Avenues, Richmond, and will feature a short address by Richards.

Foreign Students Approve Of Hot Dog's Popularity

While their opinions on life in the United States are varied, all five of the foreign exchange students attending Acalanes High School this year agree that "the hot dog deserves its popularity on the list of 'native' cuisine."

The five students sponsored by American Field Service are Maria Zarabanou of Greece, Elin Rasmussen of Denmark, Fritz Borst and Peter Gerlicher of Germany and Kamran Hakim of Iran.

QUERIED ON THEIR observations about the United States, the visiting students voiced mixed reactions.

Maria Zarbanou is "awed by height of buildings and the density of auto traffic."

Elin Rasmussen finds teenage dating customs "interesting" but the "rush" of American life "hard to take."

Fritz Borst thinks "Marilyn Monroe and Elvis Presley exasperating, American girls VERY attractive and the sale of comic books a little difficult to understand in a literate society."

PETER GERLICHER believes that Acalanes students have "a good understanding of world problems" and that American teenagers have a "habit of saying exactly how they feel about anything."

Kamran Hakim observes that he finds local teenagers "friendly and adult."

THE DON foreign exchange students are staying in the homes of "foster parents" during their school year at Acalanes. The visiting students will be introduced to the Acalanes student body at an assembly in the near future.

Allen Shapiro and Smed Ambler of Acalanes visited Europe last summer under American Field Service auspices and are also slated to report on their trip to their fellow students in a coming assembly.

According to Stanley Walgren, Acalanes principal, the exchange students, now in its third year at the Acalanes campus, "stimulates interest and understanding between our students and those of foreign lands and adds meaning to the history studies, civics classes and senior problems courses which both groups attend.

Harry McCarthy Dies Suddenly

Harry Justin McCarthy, 52, well-known Lafayette bartender, died suddenly the evening of October 4 while at the Crystal Fountain on Mt. Diablo Boulevard. For several years he had been a bartender at the Tunnel Inn; before that, he worked at the former El Molino.

The rosary was recited Sunday evening at the Chapel in the Valley, Lafayette. The body was sent Monday night to Chicago, where he was born and from where he came to this area. Other services and interment were to take place at Chicago.

The office of County Coroner Dr. L. H. Fraser reported this week that an autopsy showed that death occurred from natural causes.

McCarthy, who was single and who resided in Lafayette, was a member of Richmond Local 595 of the Bartenders Union. Survivors include a sister, Mrs. Patricia Briggs of Chicago and three cousins, Alex McCarthy of San Francisco and Walter and Robert McCarthy of Corte Madera.

Oroville Crash Injures Couple

Andy Vasiliou, 65, of Chestnut Street, Lafayette, was in Oroville Curran Hospital this week with a broken collarbone and broken rib suffered in an auto accident at Oroville September 30.

Mrs. Vasiliou, 53, who sustained bruised arms, legs and back in the crash, returned home last week. She said her husband will remain in the hospital for some time. Both were taken to the hospital after the accident.

Their car, which Vasiliou was driving, crashed in a right-angle collision with another auto about 8:30 a.m. September 30. Mr. and Mrs. Vasiliou were tossed from the car. Both autos were wrecked. The other driver was uninjured, according to Mrs. Vasiliou.

The Vasilious own the Lafayette Coffee Shop on Mt. Diablo Boulevard, which they have operated for five years.

Who Was Driving?

There were approximately 4,800 women drivers and 41,500 men drivers involved in fatal accidents during 1955. Drivers in all accidents — fatal, injury and property damage — were divided: 2,500,000 women; 14,500,000 men.

A Freeway Need: Fair Land-Buys

Commendation is due the State Division of Highways, we think, in connection with a few matters.

For one thing, we would like to praise the division for originating the idea of a fifth lane from Orinda west to the Tunnel, along Mt. Diablo Boulevard; for finding the necessary funds and for completing the job. Without being asked, the division saw the need, took the required action and performed a difficult job.

For another thing, we wish to commend the Division of Highways for being keenly aware of the very pressing highway problems in our section of Contra Costa County, for moving ahead speedily with plans for additional sections of the Diablo Freeway and for apparently good progress in the Diablo Freeway sections now under construction.

Also, we would like to compliment the division for rapid steps in developing the route of the future Shepherd Canyon Freeway. Wherever that route will be, we can be certain that plans for it will be pushed without delay.

Now, however, we wish to critize the Division of Highways.

Much land has been condemned by the state, and much more land will be condemned in the future, for the freeway projects.

We don't have detailed statistics on hand, but it seems to us that the offers made to property owners by the Division of Hihways are not realistic.

It's our opinion that when a property owner takes his case to court, he usually gets more money than was offered him originally by the state. And too often do we hear during a trial that the state offers a plaintiff a higher sum than it originally offered, so that the matter can be settled out of court (even though the matter is already in court).

When it loses a suit, the state, in addition to paying the attorneys' fees on both sides, and in addition to the time and energy wasted, must usually pay the court costs.

Wouldn't it be much more logical for the state to appraise property realistically?

If it did so, freeway work — which we all realize is necessary — would be expedited, and we could all be sure that progress is not impeded.

Locals to Bring Light to Blind

The Guiders, a group of 14 local women, have been selected to act as hostesses for the commencement festivities tomorrow at Guide Dogs for the Blind, Incorporated, San Rafael.

The group, which is active in supporting the independent western training school, will assist in the graduate ceremony and fete the participants at a tea immediately following.

Mrs. Thomas L. Fitch, Guider president, will be assisted by Mesdames:

What They Say . .

Grid Battles Off the Field

The stadium clock said one minute to play. The quarterback faded to pass . . .

Fifty thousand voices roared as the halfback caught the pass and galloped over the goal line. The day was saved . . . OUR team won.

NOT FAR from this action, a man was raking browning autumn leaves from his front lawn. Suddenly through a window in the house the excited voice of his wife informed him that the glory and honor of the local team had been successfully defended.

"Ah," he answered, "so what." And he raked a little faster, determined to finish his job before sundown.

To his wife and other gridiron fans, it seems incredible that this citizen and his ilk are not interested in the sport. The gentleman is just as adamant in the belief that watching 22 young men knock their head together is an unwarranted waste of time.

The controversy over football fanaticism has rumbled through communities and homes each fall since the pigskin was invented.

Even among fans, disagreements as to the merits of favorite teams occupy a good portion of every autumn.

How does the gridiron uproar affect the local folk?

That's what your Roving Reporter asked this week. Here's what he found:

A NEW NOTE of excitement is brought into the home of Mrs. J. V. Clark, 7 Evans Place, Orinda, with the first kickoff each fall. It's a harmonious note, however, she reports.

"My husband, daughter and I are San Francisco 49er fans. We all back them."

But Mrs. Daniel F. Boyle, 825 Topper Lane, Lafayette, and her family are really more interested in the other things fall has to offer.

While not objecting to the game, Mrs. Boyle claims that "We're not really fans. We just haven't had much time of late to follow the game."

Mrs. John W. Page, 3396 Terrace, Lafayette, goes along with her husband's grid interest, but hasn't as yet become a dyed-in-the-wool fan.

"We haven't had too much time to see local games," she explained, "but Mr. Page is a staunch fan of Ohio St. University, where he went to school."

"My son, whom I'm visiting, and I generally share enthusiasm for the California teams, while my daughter-in-law is not so interested, but we don't differ much" asid Mrs. J. E. Livingston of Los Angeles, visiting her son Jack Livingston at 190 Glen Court, Walnut Creek.

MRS. ROBERT Hershenow of 777 Duke Circle, Pleasant Hill, said, "Jack and I see eye to eye in rooting for UC, but he also likes Mt. Diablo High's team, since he used to teach there."

The 14-0 win by the Bears over Pittsburgh surprised her a lot, she added. The couple, both "Cal" graduates, have coveted tickets to the Cal-Stanford game.

The University of Wisconsin is the apple in the eyes of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hasey of 1026 Pleasant Valley Drive, Pleasant Hill.

"WE WENT to the Rose Bowl game a couple of years ago, because our favorite was there," she commented. They also agree in favoring the UC and UCLA teams.

"We used to travel all over to see the games, especially in California, but with the children, we stick to television," said Mrs. G. W. Luhr of 3335 Freeman Road, Walnut Creek.

She likes the 49'ers and her husband is partial to some high school teams, she added.

SMOG EDUCATION

Dear Editor:

Your comments on smog in your October 5 issue are commendable.

Thank you for your attitude against the trashburners. I wish you would write a real editorial on the subject. The people need a lot of education in the matter.

Most people do not know what to do with trash, except burning. That is where education begins.

Thanks again for your encouraging words against air pollution.

A STUDENT'S GRATITUDE

Dear Editor:

It would be impossible to write and thank personally all the people that were kind and gracious to me in the Orinda-Lafayette area during my stay as an American Field Service International exchange student.

They were too many. Therefore, I would appreciate it greatly if you would permit met to express my gratitude to all through the columns of this newspaper.

One year is not a long time, and it passes particularly speedily when every moment is a pleasure. My year passed much too swiftly. Still, I believe that I have never learned more than during this year in all my life — anywhere.

It would be untruthful and unfair to say that everything that I saw and heard I liked. It was not intended to. That is not the aim of the program.

Rather, it was to show us why certain things are the way they are in the U.S.,, and not solely what they are. I believe that for me it was a success.

It is now possible for me to participate in discussions and conversations that previously I could have added nothing to but a lot of "hot air." I believe that I am now able to express and explain the American viewpoint to others.

At the present in Britain, this is necessary.

All this was made possible by the American Field Service in general, but I would like to thank not only them, but the Ambler family which put up with me (and how they were able to I don't know, but it must have taken a lot of patience); Mrs. Sanford of the Orinda AFS committee, who did so much more than ever was required of her just to make the year more wonderful;

Mr. Maynard Buehler and all the members of the Orinda Rotary Club who gave me the materials to let me take back a lasting record in the form of motion pictures; and all those other people who made the year complete.

To each and all, ,thank you.

'TIGHTMONEY' BLAME

Dear Editor:

People feeling the crimp of "tightmoney" are apt to blame the Eisenhower administration.

The facts are, of course, the Federal Reserve Board is a bipartican body of six augmented by the presidents of the 12 FR districts.

The chairman of the FRB is a Democrat. He was appointed originally by Mr. Truman. He was reappointed for 14 years by President Eisenhower in January, 1956.

Because the FRB is "independent" of politics as the Supreme Court of Finance, there is no chance of a change of administration to the Democrats bringing "easy money," unless, of course, such an event should send the economy plummetting.

In the matter of our economy both Republicans and Democrats have a meeting of the minds and join hands. It will pay those feeling the crimp of T.M. to look before leaping out of the frying pan.

JACK PEDDER

Under The Sun

By Herman Silverman

Will you vote yes or no?

You, Mr. and Mrs. Voter, will go to the polls November 6 and will vote "yes" or "no" on the proposed formation of an Alameda-Contra Costa transit district. How will you vote?

When this was proposed some months ago, The Sun and this column immediately questioned it. Will we in Central Contra Costa County benefit from it? Or, conversely, in the long run could our inclusion be harmful to the original purpose of the district — replacing the Key System if and when that becomes necessary?

The Sun has presented statements by proponents and opponents. We have not yet definitely decided whether we are for or against, although we tend to believe the disadvantages for outweigh the advantages to our community. We are still, however, seeking more information.

So before we make a final decision, we decided to talk to Bob Kahn, who has taken some time to study the proposal. Bob is a long-time Contra Costa resident, civic leader, Oakland commuter and business executive. We asked Bob to prepare a statement why he is in favor of the proposed district.

And here it is . . .

In future weeks, we will present other arguments and finally our recommendation. Here is Bob's statement:

I am most concerned about the growing opposition in Contra Costa County to the two-county transit district to be voted on next month. I think that stands opposed to the district are being taken on purely provincial reasons — there aren't enough Contra Costa positions on the board, we won't support it because it helps solve someone else's problems, and the like.

I think some of the other problems should be frankly discussed at this time, and considered before the vote — not after the vote. Here in Contra Costa County we have managed to run about 10 years behind the times consistently and I feel we are about to maintain that record.

Le me try to summarize some of the points overlooked.

What about Greyhound?

1. We don't need the district because we have Greyhound.

Yet, we forget that right now Greyhound is trying very hard to get the commuter service (both Marin and Contra Costa County) set up as a separate company.

This will mean greatly increased fares — and it will also mean that through the separate corporate structure Greyhound could get out of providing any service by allowing the commuter company to go bankrupt (which Southern Pacific did when they wanted to get out of the Red Cars in Oakland some 20 years ago.)

Just what would Contra Costa do if there was no Greyhound — and the ultimate panacea, rapid transit, was still 10 years away? I feel that this could practically reverse the population trend in Central Contra Costa County.

Looking to the future . . .

If the area west of the hills had set up a district excluding Central Contra Costa County, there is no assurance that they would favorably consider annexation of the former Greyhound area. I can recall when the Sanitary District was forced temporarily to ban annexations because they had serious internal problems. I can readily envision that an existing transit district west of the hills would not accept annexation.

It would be extremely expensive for Central Contra Costa County to set up its own transportation system to carry people to Oakland and San Francisco and not have the right to carry passengers between points west of the tunnel. Of course, there would never be any such simple solution as transfers to intersecting routes west of the tunnel.

2. Rapid transit will cure everything.

I feel that our local leaders are being unrealistic when they bank entirely on the contemplated rapid transit district. This is a BILLION DOLLAR PROJECT — and it isn't created overnight.

For 7 or 8 years there has been active action on the Shepherd Canyon tunnel and it is still 10 years away.

The Diablo Freeway from the tunnel to Concord and Danville was laid out about 7 or 8 years ago — and is still years from completion. How long have we been talking about a 3rd tube in the tunnel? How many years have we been discussing another bay crossing to relieve the load on the Bay Bridge?

Years and years away

I think we can safely say that rapid transit from Lafayette to Oakland is at least 10 years away — and probably closer to 20 years away.

Forgetting for a minute the possibility that the demise of Greyhound is only 3 to 5 years away, by the time the rapid transit district is completed there will probably be, for an example, 35,000 people in Lafayette (and proportional increases elsewhere in Central Contra Costa). No planning is being made for 3000-to 5000-car parking lots at the rapid transit stations (they take a lot of space) to service the commuter populations residing in this area. Of course, there is serious questions as to whether or not the entire transportation planning of this area should be based on two-car families.

It would appear logical that by the time rapid transit is here it will be necessary to have local transportation facilities in local communities. It is unlikely that this will be economically feasible on a community-by-community basis.

Recent experience in North Richmond is a typical example; the failure of several attempts to service Walnut Creek (despite subsidy by the merchants) is another example. Even if it is done by public subsidy, it will be far more expensive than if the area is part of a larger and sounder economic unit that would be provided through the proposed two-county district.

EBMUD — a parallel?

3. Objection is raised because of the unlimited tax power.

Yet the same people fail to recognize the distinct probability that the board of this transit district will be similar in quality and operation to that of East Bay Municipal Utility Districtt. I think there is a distinct parallel today between those people adjacent to EBMUD who are serviced by California Water Company — and the situation that this area will be in relying on Greyhound.

I think we should let that experience at least warn us to carefully analyze the proposition before us today.

The district will have to operate through bonds to obtain equipment. In all probability the revenues will pay the operating costs and partially amortize the bonds. The basic control of the tax rate will be in the form of voting on bonded indebtedness — and if such bond planning is not sound, then Contra Costa County, as part of the district, is in a good position to veto action.

In conclusion, I strongly feel that Contra Costa County should support the formation of this district — and then insure proper operation of the district through the relatively stronger position they have when it comes to aproval of bonds.

Thus ends Bob Kahn's statement. More on this subject in future Suns.

"I was always washed out on washdays...

and then I got an automatic dryer!"

When the wash is out on the line, do you feel like a washout yourself? Who wouldn't, with all that lugging, stooping and pinning. Then, when the clothes finally dry, there's the same routine in reverse. Wouldn't you rather toss the wash into an automatic dryer? At the twist of a dial, the dryer gets them fluffy and sweet . . . or ready for ironing. With P. G. and E.'s low rates, you can run a dryer for pennies a week. See your appliance dealer today, and get rid of washday's hardest job!

BACKS WALLACE

Dear Editor:

Without hesitancy and without solicitation I give my wholehearted endorsement and support to the candidacy of General C. R. Wallace for Supervisor.

As one of the seven candidates for this office during the June primary, I had the privilege and opportunity, afforded few individual voters, of observing and analyzing the relative merits and qualifications of the adversaries, free from much of the superficiality that accompanies the posed photograph, the "canned" press-release, the self-serving mailing-piece, and the carefully rehearsed and memorized speech.

Weighing both candidates for supervisor, who stand before us in the November election, the scales, in my judgment, are overwhelmingly weighted in favor of General Wallace. These are some of his attributes which I commend to you, from first-hand knowledge:

1. Training and experience, par excellence, as a general officer, in administrative as well as military fields, in the United States Marine Corps.

2. Full knowledge of the scope and magnitude of the many problems that face our area and our county in the next four years.

3. A steadfast refusal to resort to gutter tactics to achieve the goal of political office; this is indeed a true indication of a man's inherent character, and a preview of his future actions and decisions as a member of the Board of Supervisors!

4. Political morality in action; something seriously lacking in Martinez. Unfettered by political deals and obligations. A newcomer to our political life, without bias or prejudgment on any issue.

5. Independent retirement incomes without any business ties, and therefore less susceptible to subtle and unconscious pressures.

6. Last, but by no means least, a full-time devotion to duty to serve the needs of the residents of the area, in keeping with his full-time training and experience, and full-time devotion to the service of our country as a Marine Corps general.

Concert Cellist to Devote Talents to Safety Breakfast

Cesare Claudio, one of the great cellists of his time, will donate his talent at the fund raising champagne breakfast to be held Sunday at Meadowbrook Country Club between 9:30 and 1 p.m.

The breakfast is sponsored by the Lafayette unit of the National Safety Council.

Claudio won the coveted Prix de Rome scholarship through his world renowned teacher William Dehe. There followed years of European study in the great conservatories with the finest teachers in Europe, then a period of concertizing.

He was for 12 years with the San Francisco Symphony orchestra.

William Shannon, president of the Council, has done other things to make the breakfast an outstanding event. All food and other necessities have been donated and a large committee is selling the $2 tickets, proceeds from which will go into an educational safety program.

The breakfast, with champagne, will be attended by county leaders from all sections. Sheriff and Mrs. Brown; General and Mrs. C. R. Wallace, and Rev. Joe McDonald, Provincial of the Columban Fathers are among notables who will attend the event.

Afterward this group, with the artist, will be entertained informally at the home of Gertrude Walker.

The Juniors voted unamiously to send a donation of $75.

Fine Arts Chairman, Mrs. David Allan, announced the activation of the club's Drama and Music program since the Juniors have been asked to entertain at the reception for the California State President, Junior Membership, on Nov. 6.

If You Desire To Sell House, Here Are Tips!

If you want to sell your home, or ever will have to face that situation, there are 19 things you should do.

This advice is available in a pamphlet to any visitor at the Contra Costa Real Estate Board offices at 1607 Locust Street, Walnut Creek.

The office has many other circulars containing valuable tips for people who think they may some day become party to a real estate transaction.

THE 19 "ESSENTIALS" for a home seller to remember when visited by a "prospect" are these:

1. Have the property looking its best at all times!
2. Keep the yard neat and clean! Make the prospect want to come inside. The first impression is mighty important.
3. Dress up the windows!
4. KEEP THE house tidy! Not as a furniture store-display window, but as a comfortable home in which to live.
5. Clean steps and stairs!
6. Shut off or tune down the radio! It's distracting when in operation.
7. Pets best be put out of the way. Some people are afraid of animals.
8. CLEAN UP basement, closets and out-of-the way places!
9. If redecorating is needed, do it if possible! Properly done it creates appeal.
10. Let plenty of light into your rooms!
11. A moderate amount of heat adds a feeling of coziness in cold weather.
12. NEVER APOLOGIZE for appearance of house!
13. Leave the showing of the house to the salesman! He knows what his customer wants and can best emphasize it when alone.
14. Be prepared at all times to show your house.
15. Do not try to sell customer the furniture before he has bought the house!
16. IF CUSTOMER asks questions about house and neighborhood, answer directly and truthfully!
17. If you feel that the salesman has overlooked some selling points, telephone him after he gets back to his office.
18. Please feel free to discuss frankly with your realtor any problem that may arise relative to the marketing of your property!
19. Remember — you have signed a Multiple Listing Exclusive! Do not sign any other listing until the 90 days has expired.

Busload of Realtors Tours Area

Central Contra Costa County residents are no longer startled when a huge bus loaded with real estate salesmen drives through their residential neighborhoods on Monday mornings.

They have become accustomed to the weekly multiple listing tours which every week take 70 people on two separate tours to inspect new listings placed on the multiple listing service.

This is one of the services of MLS which salespeople find most helpful and property owners find that it helps to sell their houses faster. The inspections are made only on the request of the property owner.

A by-product of this service is the "Tour-Opinion." After each home is inspected the salespeople submit their opinion on what they think is the market value of the home.

The median average of these opinions becomes the "Tour-Opinion." During the last five years all property sold on MLS has sold on the average well within 2 per cent of these opinions!

Those Plans Keep Al Builder Really Hopping

(Editor's note: Building and land development constitute the No. 1 industry of this area. Inevitably, they are of considerable concern to area residents. Often they are the subjects of controversies.

(The Sun asked the General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County for an article outlining the problem of the builder-developer. Here is the article, written by Frederick C. Kracke, association executive vice-president and legal counsel.)

By FREDERICK C. KRACKE
Executive Vice-President and Legal Counsel, General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County

Al Builder decided after reviewing the building sites he had available for future construction that he had better give serious consideration to obtaining land for another subdivision to be known as "Homesites."

What should be theimportant factors upon which he should base his deliberations and make his final determination?

The amount of acreage? The presence of trees? The availability of water, gas, electrcity? Distance from schools? — from church? — from neighborhood and major shopping centers?

Distance from employment? Distance to sanitary sewers? — or septic tank installations? Drainage problems? Local deed restrictions?

County or city zoning restrictions and ordinances? The price per acre?

Not one of these, but all of them must be given its proper consideration before Mr. Builder's final decision to purchase the land is reached.

LET'S ACCOMPANY Al on his venture.

Through a real estate broker or his firm's land acquistion experts he learns of a parcel of land which is located in an area presently zoned agricultural.

As the suburban development during the last 15-20 years has constantly reached into these areas zoned for agricultural use by the Planning Commission, in its effort to zone all land in the area covered by the master plan, the Planning Commission has rezoned such land to R-A, transitional residential agricultural; R-S, residential suburban; R-1, single family residential — depending upon its ideas as the best utilization of said land.

To facilitate and aid the commission in its determinations, a staff of planning experts under the city or county planning director has been engaged by the governing body.

MR. BUILDER decides that if he can obtain R-S or ¼-acre zoning he could develop a 25-acre parcel which is priced at $5000 an acre. Builder obtains a 120-day option on said property and proceeds with his engineering work.

When he has obtained from his surveyors a plot layout based on their concept of the best feasible utilization of the land on the basis of the contemplated R-S zoning, he discusses his plan with the staff of the commission.

After such discussion, Builder files 24 copies of ihs tentative map with the Planning Commission; copies of this tentative map are forwarded to the County Road Commission, Surveyor, Flood Control District, School District, Sanitation District, Health Department, Fire Department, utility companies and the State Highway Commission if the proposed subdivision is adjacent to a state highway.

THE FINAL MAP showing his imporvement plan as changed to meet the requirements of the various governmental agencies is scheduled for hearing before the Planning Commission, and with his real estate broker and his engineer, Mr. Builder leaves his family at the dinner table, to be ready for his appearance before the Planning Commission.

WE WISH TO TAKE THIS OPPORTUNITY TO EXPRESS OUR DEEP APPRECIATION TO OUR MANY FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS WHO HAVE GIVEN US THEIR LOYAL SUPPORT DURING THE PAST YEARS.

IF YOU ARE LOOKING

For a home about $20,000 then you may as well have the best buy you can get. 3 large bedrooms, 2 baths, real nice Family Room and Living Room. Mom gets the all-electric kitchen she has always wanted and a separate laundry room; Dad gets an extra large garage for his work shop. The Kiddos get a fine fenced yard and a safe place to play.

Hundreds Work For Seller in Listing Method

"Multiple Listing Service is simple mass production selling, based on the cooperative efforts of every member in the Contra Costa Real Estate Board," according to Dave Cotton, chairman of the service.

"This is the sole opportunity a seller has for acquiring the cooperative services of hundreds of realtors and salesmen and there is no charge for the service," he added.

One of the features that most sellers like in multiple listing is that although nearly 500 brokers and salesmen may be working to sell a home, the owner is always represented by the original listing office and all offers to buy the property must be presented through that office, he added.

500 Salesmen, Brokers Work For Each Seller

"Multiple Listing," is a time tested method of sales promotion, which gives a maximum of service to owners of real property, say realtors.

This service of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board has been developed during the past decade by its more than 500 brokers, salesmen and associates to a sales facility surpassed by no other professional association in California.

IN ORDER TO explain how this system operates, here is a comparison with other types of sales methods.

The selling of real estate can, in a way, be compared to selling merchandise of various kinds. Take your neighborhood grocer for example. He stocks many hundreds of varieties and brands of groceries on his shelves, but, he can't display, or even sell, the merchandise of all producers and growers.

In order to make your weekly shopping complete, it is often necessary to stop at two, three, or even more stores. Now, however, when hopping for a new home, you will soon discover that MLS is a method of putting all the available merchandise on the shelf of every broker.

The area covered by your MLS includes Orinda, Lafayette, Pleasant Hill, Walnut Creek, Alamo and Danville.

Any broker may sell your home regardless of where in Central Contra Costa County you live!

HERE'S HOW IT works — you visit your nearest realtor and list your property with MLS; your listing is processed, printed and within 48 hours distributed to the 106 broker offices in the Central Contra Costa County area.

Thus your property becomes merchandise on the shelf of every qualified salesperson in the area. In this manner every salesperson has on his shelf all the available merchandise of his competitors.

MLS in Contra Costa began just ten years ago and has grown from a mere handful of member offices to 106 broker offices doing well over $17,000,000 worth of MLS business a year.

Tenfold Sales Recorded Since First Year, 1946

Increase in the sales volume through the Multiple Listing Service of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board points out the tremendous growth which has come in Central Contra Costa during the last ten years.

$55,189,732 worth of property has been sold since the service was started in 1946. Of this amount $13,011,703 was sold in 1955.

During the first nine months of 1956 sales have reached $12,800,595.

Sales in other years were as follows:
1946, $843,787; 1947, $1,618,455; 1948, $3,295,455; 1949, $2,904,190; 1950, $3,919,874; 1951, $5,896,432; 1952, $6,465,459; 1953, $6,907,240; 1954, $9,234, 697.

Big Market Is Result

Multiple Listing is the cooperative effort of realtors to create a wider market for the listed property which each is trying to sell. The system which has developed is very effective because of the simplicity with which it operates.

Each cooperating realtor submits his listings to a central office where they are published and sent out to every other office and its salesmen.

There is no charge for this additional service to the seller. The usual selling commission is split between the listing and selling offices.

The Contra Costa Real Estate Board's Listing Service delivers twice each week to every salesman and broker a package containing listings and a bulletin which reports sales, price changes, or other information which may be helpful in servicing the property.

New Properties Always Available

Ten to fifteen million dollars worth of property is listed at any one time on the Multiple Listing Service of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board.

Each month 250 to 300 listings are processed in the control office and distributed to the 104 brokers and 400 salesmen members. A special messenger service delivers the listings and bulletins to each office twice each week.

Our Sincere Congratulations to the Contra Costa Real Estate Mart on the 10th Anniversary of Multiple Listing Service

Baldwin Present For All Decisions

Congressman John F. Baldwin of Martinez was the only California Congressman who voted on every recorded roll call during the 84th Congress, according to the Congressional Quarterly, which is an authoritative reference on Congress.

The September 21st issue of the Congressional Quarterly contains a tabulation of the attendance records of all Members of the House of Representatives. Of the thirty California Congressmen, Baldwin was the only one who never missed a roll call during either 1955 or 1956.

Heart Meet Tomorrow

An institute planned for home economics teacher, physical therapists, occupational therapists, nurses and institutional workers will be held tomorrow at the East Contra Costa Junior College, Dr. Marion Josephi, Walnut Creek, chairman of the Contra Costa County Heart Association Work Simplification Committee said today.

Registration is from 9:30 to 10 a.m. with the keynote address by Professor Louis E. Davis, associate professor of Industrial Engineering, University of California, at 10 a.m. A box lunch will be provided for the cost of registration which is $1.25.

THE AFTERNOON session, from 1:20 to 3:45, will feature group demonstrations, including; "Ironing Shortcuts" by Mrs. John C. Kennett, project leader, Reliez Valley Extension Group; "Shortcuts in Food Preparation" by Esther Drell Day, Division Home Economist, Pacific Gas and Electric Company; "Kitchen and Room Arrangement for Easier Homemaking" by Mildred Novotny, Home Management Specialist, Agricultural Extension Service, University of California; and "Simplified Homemaking" by Mary Williams, Agricultural Extension Service, University of California.

Groups will rotate so that all registrants will have an opportunity to observe each demonstration. Closing time of the session is 4:10 p.m.

ASSISTING DR. Josephi on the plans for the institute are: Juanita Benoy and Mrs. John C. Steger, Danville; Helene Culver, Mrs. Robert Clough and Bert Williams, Walnut Creek; Dorothea Schreuder, Marjorie Selm, Concord; Margaret Bewley, Richmond; Mary Williams, Pittsburg; Betty Mathews, Oakland, consultant; and Mrs. Loyse C. Casebolt, executive director, Contra Costa County Heart Association.

According to Dr. James F. Embick, president of the Contra Costa Count Heart Association, the institute is one of the community services provided by the association from funds secured through the "Heart Fund" drive staged annually in February.

He added that this year again, the Contra Costa County Heart Association will conduct an independent campaign since it is not a member of any united fund appeal.

THE FULL TIME CANDIDATE

FOR FULL TIME SUPERVISOR

WALLACE

FOR 2ND DISTRICT
SUPERVISOR

The overwhelming choice in the primary election, Clarence R. Wallace received 28% of the total votes cast, as compared to the closest runner-up who received only 18%.

In effect this offers substantial proof that the majority of the voters believe that Wallace is the man for the job.

General Wallace is fully retired. He is NOT engaged in any private business, (past, present or future) which would distract his time or influence his thinking.

There is nothing to compromise his integrity. As Wallace is the choice of the majority, he will carry out the will of the majority. A vote for Wallace is a vote for better county administration.

PROGRAMS FOR THE GOP candidates' dinner party and pre-election rally of next Tuesday night at Diablo Country Club are prepared by, left to right, Mrs. Matt Connelly, in charge of entertainment; Mrs. Donald Krotz and William F. Anderson, co-chairmen of the event, and Mrs. Lindsey Spright, programs committee chairman. The $25-a-plate dinner will be highlighted by brief speeches and by entertainment before and during the dinner hour, to be followed by dancing. —Sun photo by Mattson

Battle Page

Victory Theme to Spark $25-a-plate GOP Dinner

With "Let's Re-elect a Winning Team." as their theme, leading Republicans throughout Contra Costa County will gather at Diablo Country Club Tuesday for a candidates' dinner party and pre-election rally.

Keynoted by entertainment and informality, the party will get underway at 6:30 p.m. A nationally-known illustrator, Lonnie Bee, of Orinda, created the elephant programs which will be featured on each of the tables set for parties of eight.

Many of the tables already have been assigned to sponsors and there also will be many no-host tables, according to Mrs. Donald Krotz, of Orinda, co-chairman.

Football-helmeted Young Republicans and a "Kuchel Kongo" line led by Betty Irwin, co-chairman of the U. S. Senator Thomas H. Kuchel's campaign in Contra Costa, will be among the groups carrying out the party theme.

Entertainment will be continuous before and during the dinner hour, featuring variety acts ranging from a comedy hula team to accordion solos by Charles Romani of Pittsburg.

William Anderson of Walnut Creek, co-chairman of the $25-a-plate dinner, will be the master of ceremonies.

Dancing to the music of Henry Gallagher's orchestra will begin at 9:30 following brief speeches by candidates or their representatives. Both Congressman John F. Baldwin and Assemblyman Donald D. Doyle will speak.

Mayor E. C. Counter of Walnut Creek will lead the Pledge of Allegiance and the invocation will be delivered by the Rev. Michel Vallon, pastor of the San Ramon Valley Congregational Church.

Mrs. Thomas N. Barrows has been named campaign materials coordinator and will supervise a group distributing bumper strips and other campaign literature.

Ticket chairmen for their communities are Harmon Howard, Walnut Creek, YE 5-5116; Mrs. Stanley Friden, Diablo and Danville, VE 7-2197; Mrs. Eugene Scofield, assisted by Mrs. William Freeman in Lafayette, CL 4-2101; and Mrs. Clay Sorrick, Orinda, CL 4-2121, assisted by Mrs. John Gompertz.

Among the Orinda sponsors of tables for eight are Dr. and Mrs. John Gompertz, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Stackman, Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Bottomley, Mr .and Mrs. Melvin Jacobus, Mr. and Mrs. Kendric Morrish, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Breuner, Mr. and Mrs. William Mordy, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mulvaney, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Stewart.

Lafayette sponsors include the James Moores, Chauncey Ponds, Robert Bridges, Glen Fosters, and M. D. Plants.

Among sponsors from Walnut Creek are Mr. and Mrs. Philip Bancroft, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Roland, Mayor and Mrs. E. C. Counter, Mr. and Mrs. John Osmundsen, Mr and Mrs. Alex Lindsay, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Young, and the Walnut Creek Republican Women's Club.

"DOLLARS FOR DEMOCRATS Day" will result in more television time for Adlai Stevenson, according to Assembly Candidate Russell Koch (at left, tuning in), honarary chairman of the nationwide event of next Tuesday, in the 10th Assembly District. Barbara Borowiak of Lafayette (standing, right) is collecting dollars from Ellen Kroff and James Benney of Orinda. Benney is vice-chairman of the Stevenson-Kefauver Campaign Committee of Contra Costa County; Mrs. Borowiak and Mrs. Kroff are chairmen of Lafayette and of Orinda. —Sun photo by Mattson

Lafayette Demos Map Campaign

To participate in the national Dollars for Democrats Day next Tuesday, the Lafayette Democratic Club is planning a special meeting for that evening.

The gathering, to be held at the Alan Gittelsohn home at 3305 Betty Lane, will incorporate a door-to-door canvassing in that neighborhood, a workshop for a final check on precinct lists and a dessert and coffee hour.

The door-to-door drive, beginning at 7:15 p.m., will be not only to collect funds for campaign purposes such as purchasing of television time and use of billboards, but to distribute literature and Stevenson-Kefauver automobile bumper strips.

The workshop will start promptly at 8 p.m. followed by dessert, coffee and conversation sparked by the presence of Russ Koch, assembly candidate and honorary chairman of Dollars for Democrats Day in the 10th Assembly District, and Dr. H. R. "Bob" Quinney, candidate for Congress in the 6th Congresional District.

Following these activities the next big event on the list of local Democrats is to be a spirited pre-election party on October 27 at the Orinda home of Emmarie Holmes, 4 Diablo View.

Labeled "Hi, Spirits!" the event, sponsored by the Lafayette and Orinda Democratic Clubs, will feature dancing, entertainment and a late buffet supper. Drinks will be available.

Donations of $2.50 per person will be accepted by Sharon Gittelsohn, AT 4-4226, or Grace Hanks, CL 4-4146.

GAS CAP

If for any reason you lose the gas cap on your car, be sure it is replaced with the correct type cap, cautions the California State Automobile Association. A vented gasoline tank cap is necessary to insure proper "breathing."

Demo Senator to Speak at Dinner

Oregon's Senator Richard Neuberger will fly here to address a $25 a plate Democratic Fund raising dinner tomorrow in Lafayette, it was announced by William D. McKee, Dinner Chairman.

The event will begin with a social hour at 7 p.m., at El Nido Rancho. It is sponsored by the Contra Costa County Democratic Central Committee as the committee's major event of the current campaign, McKee explained.

A noted author and journalist, Neuberger became the first Democrat to be sent to the Senate from Oregon in 40 years when he defeated the Republican incumbent in 1954.

AFL-CIO Backs C. R. Wallace

At a regular meeting in Martinez last Friday the Committee on Political Education of the AFL-CIO, Contra Costa County, endorsed the candidacy of Clarence R. Wallace for supervisor of the Second District.

The action was reported this week by Herb Shoup, president of COPE, and George Kelty, vice-president. COPE is the political arm of the three county labor councils — the Central Labor Council, the Building Trades Council and the Industrial Union Council.

COPE also endorsed the candidacy of Jake Frederickson for reelection as supervisor of the Fifth District.

WALLACE'S campaign was stepped up this week with the addition of another campaign headquarters — in Orinda, at 19 Moraga Highway, across from the Orinda Theater.

This office will be staffed by volunteer workers from the Orinda area and will be open from 2 to 4 p.m.

IN HIS TALK last week to the Orinda Rotary Club, Wallace predicted that by 1976 "the entire Bay Area, plus San Jose to the south, Stockton on the east, Sacramento on the north, and all the intervening territory, will be looked upon and treated as a single metropolitan area."

"San Francisco and Oakland will continue to the focal center of this vast metropolitan area," he said. "This growth means a doubling of residential units, educational institutions, recreational and health facilities, commercial and industrial areas, sewers, gas, water, electricity and the extension of the road network."

Locals to Ring Doorbells For 'Dollars for Demos'

Next Tuesday will be "Dollars for Democrats Day," designated by the Democratic National Committee as a one-day drive to collect small donations from Democrats all over the nation.

Mrs. Barbara Reid of Camino Don Miguel in Orinda is one of the originators of "Dollars for Democrats Day." She is a member of the Executive Committee heading the drive in Northern California, and has also assumed the organizing duties of Chairman for the 10th Assembly District.

SHE HAS NAMED Assembly-Candidate Russell Koch of Pleas-Hill as Honorary Chairman of the drive in this District.

Mrs. Reid explains, "Dollars for Democrats Day" is not planned as a one-time campaign drive, but rather as a yearly event which will be held each October.

"Since the bulk of contributions to the Democratic Party comes from small donors — which insures no strings, no obligations — setting aside one day for the collection of donations will make for most efficient coverage.

"Much of the money from this year's drive will go to put Adlai Stevenson on television, so that the American people will have the opportunity of hearing, through this medium, both sides of the political story."

LAST APRIL, Mrs. Reid wrote to Paul Butler, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, outlining her ideas for a "Dollars for Democrats Day."

Butler notified her that her plan was receiving serious consideration. In September, Butler informed her that her plan, in combination with several others, had resulted in the setting of October 16 as "Dollars for Democrats Day."

IN CONNECTION with her chairmanship of this District, Mrs. Reid states that in the suburban areas it will be impossible for workers to reach every door. Those who are not contacted may mail their contributions to Democratic Headquarters, 2101 Salvio Street, Concord, or may call the following people, who are spearheading the drives in their respective communities:

Ellen Kroff, CL 4-3332; Barbara Borowiak, AT 4-4059; Bernice Scharlach, YE 4-8975; and Annette Koch, MU 2-4134.

Democrats wishing to join club members in the October 16 drive may call the representative from their areas to obtain "Dollars for Democrats Day" kits and buttons, and campaign literature and bumper strips for distribution.

Chairmen Will Help Baldwin

Appointments of three area chairmen to head Citizens for Baldwin committees were announced today by Harmon Howard, of Walnut Creek, campaign chairman for Representative John F. Baldwin.

William F. Anderson, Walnut Creek realtor, will head his area's Baldwin committee, while Mrs. William B. Freeman, a member of Lafayette Elementary School Board for the past eight years, heads the Lafayette committee.

Mrs. Thomas N. Barrows, vice president of the California Federation of Republican Women, northern division, has accepted chairmanship of the Baldwin committee in the Orinda area.

In accepting her post, Mrs. Freeman, who is the mother of five boys, called attention to Congressman Baldwin's interest in better schools and education. In 1953 Baldwin served on the Martinez Elementary School Bond Committee and was chairman of the Alhambra Union high school adult education committee.

Coffee Party Toasts Kuchel

A coffee party was held recently for Senator Thomas Kuchel at the home of Mrs. Max Dunn of Orinda. Among those attending were Mrs. Jessie Connell, Mary deSoto, Katherine Flint, Verla Krotz, Lucille Athonizen, Molly Sullivan, Vea Hendrickson, and Betty Irwin.

The re-election of Senator Kuchel was urged by Mrs. Dunn and her guests.

Don't throw trash from your car. It's now against the law to be a litterbug. Keep roads clean.

Quinney, Koch Honored in PH

Dr. H. R. Quinney, Sixth Congressional District candidate, and Russell Kock, 10th Assembly candidate, were honored Wednesday at a business men's luncheon and eight coffee sessions in the Pleasant Hill Area.

Representatives of three area Democratic clubs were in charge. They were Edward E. Clay, president of Pleasant Hill Hill Club; Frank Hanrahan, Concord Valley Club president; and Mrs. Sallie Hoff, voter education chairman for the Contra Costa Women's Democratic Club.

The noon luncheon was at Stan's Brick House, while the coffee sessions were spaced throughout the day, with the following hostesses:

The Mmes. Paul Thome, Paul Whitten, Joseph Petersen, Gerald Bair, Raymond A. James, Robert N. VerSteeg, Clair Steegmiller and Ruth Dawkins.

Quinney, main speaker at all the gatherings, charged that the voting record of his opponent, Republican Incumbent John F. Baldwin, favored the large taxpayer at the expense of small income groups.

Knights Clash With Pleasant Hill Tonight

Rams Assume Underdog Role At Mt. Diablo

The Las Lomas Knights and the Pleasant Hill Rams have at it tonight in a league grid game to be played under the lights at Mt. Diablo High.

On the basis of showings to date, the Knights hold a definite edge as they have but two players out. The sidelined pair are fullback Roger Cowell, who has a game leg, and quarterback Jim Symington with a mending arm.

Both are expected back for next week's game with the Diablo Devils.

Coach Hal Briggs of the Rams is having trouble hitting the win column and tonight finds his chances on the slim side.

The Knights have a tough line up forward and with the return of Webb Johnson, an All-county performer last year, the defense in particular is bolstered.

The Rams have been tough enough as a defensive unit, but have had difficulty in rolling on the offense with an consistency.

Chances are they will have trouble with the Knights, who have built a reputation of being stingy when it comes to giving up much yardage.

PAY DIRT is reached by Pete Ostrom of the Las Lomas Knights as he goes to a touchdown from 10 yards out at last Friday's game against the Antioch Panthers. The speedy Knight back was in good form last week, after a bruised leg had previously slowed him down. As is evident from his pigskin-carrying action here, he gave the opposition plenty to worry about.

Student Driver Safety-Economy Course Logged

The course which students from four Central Contra Costa County high schools will drive over in a Safety-Economy Run Saturday, October 27, has been logged by the county sheriff's office, the California Highway Patrol and the California State Automobile Association.

Official announcement of the exact route will be made one week prior to the run.

The route is carefully chosen so as to provide all elements of both country and city driving. The student drivers will be tested for their knowledge of Vehicle Code regulations as well as for their driving skill under varying conditions of road and terrain.

THE SAFETY-ECONOMY Run is being organized by school, civic and club groups, the sheriff's office, the Walnut Creek Police Department and the California Highway Patrol, with the assistance of General Petroleum Corporation (Mobilgas) and the California State Automobile Association.

Approximately 100 students from Acalanes, Las Lomas, Pleasant Hill and San Ramon High Schools will compete for honors as the safest and most economical motorist.

The run will provide them with the opportunity to prove how good they are at squeezing top gasoline mileage out of their cars and at the same time show how they have learned safe and sane driving skills through the high school driver education course.

VICTORY, as in the annual Mobilgas Economy Run, will be based on ton-miles and miles-per-gallon records.

The ton-mile formula allows cars of different weight and engine displacement to compete on a nearly equal basis. Each infraction of traffic or safety rules costs a driver an extra one-tenth of a gallon of gasoline, which is charged against his final score.

Winners from each of the four schools, as well as the boy or girl who wins the Sweepstakes Trophy, will receive trophies donated by Mobilgas.

These will be awarded at a victory luncheon immediately following the run at the Walnut Creek Recreation Center.

Students who wish to enter the run must be 16 years of age or older, possess a valid California driver's license, and drive either their own car or their parents' car. Automobiles entered in the run must pass technical inspection. This is being conducted under the direction of the stewards at each school.

OFFICIAL STEWARDS of the run at the four high schools are:

Acalanes — Jack McLean, driver training instructor; Rex Kaufman, auto shop instructor.

Las Lomas — Chander Kjos, driver training instructor.

Pleasant Hill — Dan Della, vice-principal; Ray Jackson, shop instructor.

San Ramon — Bob Vincent, driver training instructor.

Safety-Economy Runs will be held in other parts of the county in the future if interest in shown, according to Sheriff Harry A. Brown, coordinator of the event.

BPW to Offer Dinner, Talk

Professional Women's Club will hold a dinner meeting Wednesday at Stan's Brick House, Walnut Creek. A social hour at 6:30 p.m. will start the activities, with dinner to be served at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Hazel Courtney, international relations chairman, Lafayette BPW, will be hostess for the evening.

Richard A. Lommel, Diablo Council of the United Nations, will speak on "International Aspects of Colonialism as Related to the United Nations." A question- and -answer period on this subject will follow.

Knights Shine In 21-7 League Opener Victory

The Knights of Las Lomas High drew a bye when league play opened two weeks ago. Evidentally, the rest did them good as they came out strong last Friday to drop the Antioch Panthers, 21-7, for their first leaue win.

The contest, played at the Las Lomas field, found a pair of new quarterbacks doing a bang-up job for Coach De Klotz's eleven in directing the victory.

TERRY YEAGER and Don Crowley, who divided the duty in the absence of regular field general Jim Symington, sidelined with a bruised arm, delivered the mail.

From their work, it appears that Las Lomas will have three quarterbacks of merit when Symington returns to the fold next week.

Antioch drove deep into Knights territory in the opening minutes, but fell short inside the 15 when the Knights' forward wall held for downs.

From there on in the Knights were prett much in charge of things, although they didn't tally until midway in the second period.

THE SCORE CAME at the end of a drive which found the Knights covering 57 yards in 11 plays.

On the 10th play fullback Stevens went over from five yards out, only to have it called back and a five yard penalty assessed. The setback was very temporary, however, as halfback Pete Ostrom found a gaping hole in the middle of the line and went the distance standing up.

Joe Emmericks, the German import, made a routine soccer boot to place the ball squarely between the uprights for extra point.

THE KNIGHTS held the Panthers for downs, took the ball on the punt and drove 44 yards to the 20. Don Crowley at quarterback wound up and tossed the pigskin to Pete Ostrom in the left flat, and Ostrom toured the distance.

Emmericks' soccer-educated toe made the count 14-0.

The Antioch aggregation evidentally got the word at half time as they bounced back in the third quarter, going 55 yards in 10 plays to score, with halfback Ed Riggins driving over from the two for the score.

End Mike Quintana booted the extra point and it was 14-7.

THE SCORE STAYED that way throughout the third quarter, but in the final frame the story changed.

Antioch drove to the Knights' 18, only to bobble the ball and have Las Lomas take over. On the next play Pete Ostrom found a hole in the right side of the line, cut outside, reversed his field and went all the way.

Emmericks got into the act again, and, playing his part well, made the score 21-7. That's what the scoreboard read as the gun sounded seconds later.

IT WAS A game that got the Knights off on the right foot in league play and showed the team, the line in particular, to advantage. In the backfield quarterbacks Terry Yeager and Don Crowley stood out, as did halfback Pete Ostrom with his fine running.

Local Hurlers Expected to Ape World Series Phenom

By ERWIN MATTSON

The World Series has really brought baseball into the spotlight . . . and it has been a terrific series.

At this writing it was three games all and the big one on tap.

One of the outstanding performances was the no-hit no-run no-nothing hurling of young Don Larsen.

IN POSTING his record performance he displayed a unique style with his no windup delivery. Holding the ball in front of him, Larsen pulled the ball back to his body and then threw.

Bob Turley, another Yankee hurler, used the same style effectively last Tuesday, although he lost, 1-0 in 10 frames.

The pitchers claim this delivery gives the batter less time to look at the ball and that it aids control.

Regardless of whether it does or does not, look for plenty of high school throwers to initiate the style. Success breeds admiration . . . admiration leads to imitation.

Babe Ruth popularized the home run and has had many would-be single hitters swinging for the fence ever since.

Coach Jack Danilovich has done nothing but win since moving to East Contra Costa Junior College, his latest conquest being over Shasta Junior College, a candidate for the Junior Rose Bowl.

Jim McMillin, last year's Pleasant Hill Ram All-league fullback, has been a top runner with East Contra Costa.

THE ACALANES DONS have three representatives in Laird Eickmeyer, an All-county guard in '55, Martin Murphy, a standout guard two years ago, and Jon Palmer, who played guard at Acalanes but is now doing yeoman duty at end.

Those interested in track should be headed for Edwards Field at Berkeley tomorrow. The event will be a preview showing of athletes composing the United State Olympic team that will compete in Melbourne, Australia, next month.

Coach Charles Eaton, the Dons' track mentor, is taking 20 of his charges to view the events and get inspiration for better performances next spring.

Incidentally, the Dons' cross-country team, known as the Happy Wanderers, are really roaming in great style, being in the undefeated class.

Reports have it that Miramonte's baseball club won't be playing on a turf field this year. The powers that be have decided it's too late to plant the grass and the field won't be in top shape until '58.

Mental Health Group to See Hospital Movie

The Central Contra Costa Mental Health Assn. will meet at 8 p.m. October 23 at the Parish Hall of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, 1924 Walnut Avenue in Walnut Creek.

Highlight of the rogram will be a sound and color film titled "A Nurses Day With The Mentally Ill."

The film was made at the Psychiatric Ward of Herrick Memorial Hospital in Berkeley. The meeting should be of special interest to Contra Costa residents, according to Mrs. Hans Wendell, program chairman. Herrick is one of the few hospitals in this area with psychiatric services available.

Dr. Stuart MacRobbie of the Dept. of Psychiatry at Herrick Memorial Hosital will discuss the film and treatment facilities of Herrick.

The program committee has Dr. Harold Karr, Mrs. Ann Heisler, Rev. W. Hodgkin, Ed. Tonningsen, Mrs. Franz Wasserman, and Mrs. William Rice.

At a future program November 27 mental health in Contra Costa County industry will be discussed.

Transportation to these meetings can be arranged by telephoning YE 5-1015.

Tilts Next Week To Shake 'em up

Next week finds another round of play on tap in the Diablo Valley Athletic League, and results will have a big effect on the final grid standings.

The two games of the week will find Acalanes at Pittsburg and Los Lomas at Mt. Diablo.

Acalanes, Las Lomas and Pittsburg are undefeated at this writing, although all of that could be changed with tonight's games.

Pitt is in the safest spot, however, as they play the Alhambra Bulldogs, a team which has been anything but ferocious to date. Pitt doesn't have much to lose as this isn't a league tilt.

In other league games, Antioch and Pleasant Hill clash at Antioch next week. This is the game that could decide which will rise out of the deep, dark league cellar.

School Section of Council Has Meet

The School Section of the Contra Costa Safety Council (Green Cross) held its first fall meeting Tuesday, at the Clayton Valley Elementary School at Clayton Road and Deckinger Road, Concord.

Dons to Battle Devils For 'Big Game' Trophy

It's a big one coming up for the Acalanes Dons tonight as they play the rough and ready Diablo Devils under the light of the Acalanes Memorial Field.

The Junior Varsity eleven opens at 5:45 p.m., while the big boys take over at 8 o'clock.

THE DIABLO eleven, in their two previous outings, topped Antioch with a last minute prayer pass, 7-6, then took it on the nose from Pittsburg, 18-6, after having a 6-6 tie at the half.

The Dons drew a bye last week after having trimmed a willing but not too potent Pleasant Hill Ram eleven, 14-0, the week before.

Both clubs have been working overtime this week in preparation for the "big one" tonight. The game has added signifiance in that the perpetual trophy will be at stake.

The Dons won it last year with a stunning upset over the Devils.

Both elevens have new head mentors, with Hart Fairclough at Diablo and Jean Ridley now holding the reins at Acalanes.

The game is a traditional and has always been hard fought.

RIDLEY'S CHARGES are reported to be ready and willing after a week's rest, while the Devils are a bit bruised and battered after the Pitt game.

The Devils' lineup wasn't available at press time, but Coach Ridley announced he would go with four juniors and seven seniors.

The end spots find Val Geissler at the left flank and Steve Jordan on the right. John Cadwell and Frank Malynn, a pair of seniors, hold forth at tackle, while another pair of seniors, Jim Kinkel and Bill Broderick, show at the guard spots.

Art Batchelder, a junior, takes over the center position.

IN THE BACKFIELD, Rich Markstein, a senior, will do the signal calling at quarterback. His ball carriers will be Dave Bojarsky, a junior, at the flanker back and senior Harold Ecklund at right half.

Junior fullback Stewart Busby, a crunching runner, rounds out the line-up.

Certain to see action in the course of the evening's action is Rick Davis, an up and coming junior halfback.

Football to Pay For Local Fans

Despite the recent "purge of professionals" in Pacific Coast Conference ranks, football can still be a profitable game — for the spectator, that is.

Once again this year, local gridiron fans will have an opportunity to parlay their pigskin knowledge and "sixth sense" into monetary gain.

The opportunity is being offered by the Diamond K Supply's annual Football Contest, which is being run in The Sun and the Sun Shopping News each week.

All it takes to win some of the $45 in merchandise orders Diamond K offers each week is the correct selection of winners in games played throughout the nation.

With 20 games listed on the entry form in The Sun weekly, the person selecting all the winners correctly will be awarded $25 in merchandise orders.

Selection of 19 winners of the 20 games will earn $15 in orders, while 18 winners means $5 of Diamond K merchandise.

In case of a tie in winning guesses, the prize will be divided equally.

Entries, clipped out of The Sun, must be turned into Diamond K Supply, 3671 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette, or postmarked before 11 a.m. each Saturday.

Officially postponed or tied games count as "wins" for both teams.

If more than one winning entry is submitted by any one person, only the entry with the greatest number of correct answers will be counted.

Winners will be notified the following week in The Sun.

Last weekend there were 53 entries — but no winners. S. S. Knight, 1341 Juanita Drive, Walnut Creek, came closet, with only five wrong. Seven entries were postmarked too late.

Art Center to Rent Paintings

The Valley Art Center, 3420 Mt. Diablo Blvd., Lafayette, will open its autumn season with a cocktail party next Friday afternoon from 5 p.m. until 9 p.m.

Featured will be paintings for rent. The public is invited to attend free of charge.

Average rental prices for the three-month period is about $5, stated Mrs. Stanley Kwiat, chairman of the affair. Those who come early will have first choice of paintings to adorn their homes for the coming Thanksgiving and Christmas seasons.

A new collection of Christmas ornaments, cards, jewelry, ceramics and small sculpture at moderate prices will be on display.

Little Devils Are Big Powers in JV Grid Circle

In Junior Varsity grid play last week, Mt. Diablo tromped Pittsburg, 27-6, while Las Lomas was copping a 7-6 win over Antioch.

Acalanes stopped Miramonte, 7-0, and Pleasant Hill measured Pacifica, 30-6.

On the basis of this play, the Little Diablo Devils look to be the team to beat, with the runner spot pretty much an open race, although Las Lomas seems to have a slight edge here.

Tonight the JVs go at it in 5:45 p.m. preliminaries to the varsity encounters.

It's Diablo at Acalanes Las Lomas versus Pleasant Hill at Diablo High, and Pacifica and Antioch tangle at Pittsburg High's field.

In an afternoon game Miramonte plays host to Pittsburg.

Adult Center Begins Classes In Language

The Conversational French class, which got under way last week, is soon to be joined by a Conversational Spanish class and a German Conversation course in the Acalanes Adult Center.

Mrs. Achener, a native of France, said that there are still openings in her class which meets on Thursday evenings for people who want to learn Conversational French.

The Conversational Spanish class is to be instructed by Mr. Zoraida Schmidt, a native of South America. It emphasizes proper pronunciation and conversational vocabulary, for beginning, intermediate and advanced students.

She has taught classes in Spanish for the past six years in several Bay Area Adult programs and has had considerable success in these classes.

This course will be held at the new Miramonte High School in Orinda, starting on Monday, at 7:30 p.m.

The class will also feature field trips in which the group will visit Mexican restaurants and other places in the Bay Area that have a Latin atmosphere. All interested persons are invited to attend the first meeting without obligation.

G. Hesse, a native of Germany, will hold a demonstration lesson in his Conversational German Class. Hesse uses what he calls the "natural" method of instruction. A time and place will be set for this demonstration, if interest is shown. For further information call the Adult Center at AT 3-6262.

Vikings Defeat Shasta, 38-27, In Redding Game

The East Contra Costa Junior College Vikings downed Shasta JayCees, 38-27, Saturday night in a game at Redding.

The half-time score was 26-6 in favor of the Vikings, and at the third quarter's end it was 32-20.

The first touchdown was by Shasta, when halfback Jim Carter went over after the hosts recovered a fumble.

THE VIKINGS then marched 60 yards and quarterback Jim Rose passed 20 yards to halfback Randy Autentico for the TD.

In the second quarter, Rose passed to McMillan for 23 yards. Later halfback Bob Young skirted right end for 21 yards and another score. Both conversion attempts were successful.

On a third down, Rose passed to end Bill Hall, covering 27 yards, enough for another score.

IN THE third stanza, Shasta quarterback Chuck Nevi hurled the pigskin 20 yards to halfback Harry Johnson, who covered another 15 yards to reach paydirt. The conversion was good, and the score stood at 26-14.

The guests stretched their lead when Young bulled his way for 12 yards climaxing a sustained drive. Shasta in turn put on a sustained drive, which resulted in a touchdown.

In the fourthe quarter, center Don Young intercepted a pass for the Vikings. Six rush plays picked up 17 yards. Rose passed 16 yards to Parnell for the final Viking score.

Shasta added seven points before the final gun, as result of a sustained ground attack.

Jazzman Scobey To Trace Blues At St. Mary's

A two-hour musical dissertation on blues and its history will be the theme of the Bob Scobey jazz concert to be presented at St. Mary's College Monday evening at 8 p.m.

Scobey, a strong jazz attraction in the bay area, has recently concluded a record-breaking appearance at the Flamingo Hotel in Las Vegas.

Following his start in the Lafayette area, playing on the "Strip," Scobey reached national prominence for his dixieland work. He has played nightclub engagements in the major jazz cities in the country, including the birthplace of Dixieland, New Orleans.

Tickets for the concert are available at Reilly's Music Shop, Walnut Music Shop and the Campagna Music Store in Lafayette. Tickets are also on sale at the St. Mary's box office.
